Mustang Sweepstakes

Winners collect

Winners in the downtown Mustang Sweepstakes are collecting prize money each week -- with prizes up to $25 already delivered to lucky shoppers in the Concourse construction area.

New lucky numbers will be posted Thursday morning, and the fortunate holders of numbers now on display in cooperating business houses must claim their prizes before the new ones are hung. Tickets are given out with no purchase necessary.

Fred Strohle, 915 N. First, Upland, walked away with a $25 winner.

Mark Hurley of 7520 Stinel, Cucamonga, received a $15 merchandise certificate.

Another $15 winner was Fritz Seyfarth, 623-A E. Eighth St.

Jeanne Maestri, address not given, picked up a $10 certificate.

Jewel Miles, 8242 Via Carrillo, Cucamonga; Virginia Budnick, 1365 N. Grove, Upland; Jewell Barnett, 5580 Moreno, Montclair and Mrs. George R. Simpkins, 345 Mariposa Ct., Upland, each received a $5 certificate.

Other $5 winners were Terry Fisher, Shelley Ave., Upland, and Don LaCroix, 123 E. Ninth St., Upland.

Betty Larrabee reported in with two lucky tickets, for $5 each.

The certificates can be spent like cash at cooperating business places, and tickets remain in the running for that grand prize, a Ford Mustang, to be given away when the Concourse is completed in June.

Certificates are given out at First National Bank of Upland, Upland Savings and Loan and Bank of America, downtown branch.

Colonel probably not smiling now

The bucket of chicken won't go around in the sky, and the colonel probably isn't smiling at this point: Upland Planning Commission denied a variance to permit the much advertised sign in Upland Square.

The sign applied for by Penn-Ritter Mortgage Co. for the Square would have been 33 feet high, but there's a limitation without a variance for signs no higher than the building they advertise. The PC denied the variance.

Planners also denied a request by Bible Baptist Church of Upland to establish a church on a lot of 8,767 square feet at 640 F St. because of the small size.

Mark Alexander received a third denial by the Planners on a zone change from A-1 (40,000 square foot lot minimum) to R-1-B (15,000 square feet on 13.8 acres on the north side of 21st St. some 777 feet west of Euclid. Neighboring lots are in the R-1-A 20,000 category. Alexander received approval for 1.2 acres in that zone.

Planners also started discussion, which will be continued into the future, on high-rise apartment buildings (over two stories) which they will have to consider and make some recommendation on in the future, according to consultant Simon Elisner.

Planners gave approval for a zone change from Open to C-4 highway commercial for 24.4 acres on the northeast corner of Foothill and Padua Ave., requested by Jere Strizak and George Hughes, for a proposed 150-store small-shop commercial center to be known as the "Town and Country Center."

Decisions of Planning Commission can be appealed to City Council.

Y.O.U.R.S. to open Teen Center soon

Y.O.U.R.S., teen center for high school boys and girls, will have a preliminary opening Friday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. according to Mrs. Betty Root, president of the board for operation of the Teen Center.

Y.O.U.R.S. will accept memberships and sign-ups for service projects Friday and Saturday evening.

The center has tentatively scheduled a dance area, library, game room, group discussion area, and snack bar. Board members are Mrs. Root, Jim Price, George Schlen, Betty Harrison, Coy Estes, Bill Vallon, and Betty Wise.

Some of the supporting adult membership are at this time Mike Rossitter, The Rev. Bruce Gabbert, George Gibson, Donald Maroney, George Weidmann, Thomas Glasheen, Richard Mesa, Joe Cleveland, and Ralph Miller.

THAT WAS THE START -- of work on the streets in the Upland Concourse last week. Where rear of truck sits there is now a four-foot deep hole, four feet deeper than the dirt where the pavement was removed, the basement of kiosk at Second and Ninth. How did we get this view from high in the middle of Second Ave.? From a 50-foot snorkle that was being demonstrated for the Fire Department by Crown Coach. It made a rock-steady camera platform. Other pictures show the rig. Part of boom is in foreground.

What next on Concourse? city engineer tells all

Curious about what happens next in constructing the downtown Upland Concourse? City Engineer Fred C. Blanchard issues a weekly report each Monday outlining progress and future activities of the construction crews.

Here's this week's report telling of work on Ninth St., temporary street and alley roadways, and things to come:

by Fred C. Blanchard
City Engineer

The following construction activity is planned for the downtown area for the coming week:

A temporary construction roadway for traffic on Second Ave. will be graded, with crushed rock being placed, on the east half of the intersection of Ninth St. and Second Ave. The center of this intersection was excavated approximately 4 more feet to the basement level of the new kiosk and construction of the basement will begin this week. Construction activity will concentrate on the Ninth St. Concourse between the First and Second Aves. and in the alleys between Second and Third Aves. The concrete curbs will be constructed in these alleys and the alleys between Second and Third Aves. will be put in shape similar to the present condition of the alleys between First and Second Aves.

Final paving of the alleys cannot take place until the utility poles are removed (the paving machine cannot get through between the poles and the curb). The telephone company has a great number of telephone services to change over before the poles can be removed and they estimate that they can have the poles out by no later than April 28.

Extensive work on the Second Ave. Concourse will not begin until the Ninth St. Concourse is complete enough to be opened. While the businesses along Ninth St. will bear the brunt of the inconveniences caused by the construction activity at this time, they will benefit later by having the Ninth St. Concourse essentially complete and open for use approximately one month in advance of the completion of the Second Ave. Concourse.

Sister City group to meet April 4

The Town Affiliation Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 4 in the council chambers of Upland City Hall.

Tuesday Upland voters will decide the question of the famous rail spur case, which two men will serve on the Upland City Council for four years, and which one of four women will become city clerk.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The rail spur has created the most interest, council seats the next greatest amount, and the race for clerk seems the quietest, except for that of city treasurer, where incumbent Robert Thrall is running for re-election unopposed.

COUNCIL CANDIDATES

Voters will choose for city council two men from among seven who filed for the office. They are, in ballot order:

Incumbent George Gibson, 694 N. Second Ave., plant security chief at Kaiser Steel.

Incumbent Ronald (Mike) Rossitter, 1560 W. Arrow Hwy., chicken rancher.

Robert E. Burroughs, stationary engineer, 135 Morgan Way.

Ralph O. Douglas, 1728 O. Malley, insurance man.

Charles G. Machalicky, mechanical engineer, 1594 N. San Antonio.

Alfred Salkind, retired businessman, 1303 Monte Verde.

Jay R. Thrasher, teacher, 906 N. Euclid.

Four candidates for city clerk do not include an incumbent. Mrs. Dorris Magruder is not seeking reelection.

Candidates in ballot order are: Doreen K. (Doe) Carpenter, office manager-bookkeeper at the Upland News, 1437 13th St.

Barbara E. Covill, secretary in the Police Department, 346 S. Third Ave.

Shirley Ortman, secretary, 763 Redding Way.

Mrs. Helen Turner, secretary-bookkeeper.

The clerk's term is for four years.

Treasurer incumbent Robert Thrall is an accountant with the firm of Thrall and Reardon, and is running without opposition.

The Santa Fe spur issue is a referendum measure through which voters will have their say on whether or not the city shall grant the railroad the right to cross 13th, 14th and 15th streets.

That is the actual issue. The Railroad owns the right of way in between the streets, but must have city permission to cross them.

Service to a rock plant, to make Upland rock competitive with L.A. area rock is the idea behind the spur. It will also serve a future light industrial area. It is an extension of the spur that crosses Foothill and swings west to near Euclid and up to 19th.

That old spur toward Euclid and north would be removed under terms of the ordinance permitting the new operation.

One train of less than 10 cars each way per day with a speed of about five miles an hour is planned. Flagmen will guard intersections.

A group calling itself "Citizens Committee for Vote No on the April 9th Referendum" is fighting the spur.

Its organizers are Marge Katona, Arthur Janis, Albert Pattison, Charles Caraway, Gary Shupe and Alfred Salkind, according to one mimeographed leaflet.

Upland Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee has published a brochure for vote yes. The Chamber says the spur will aid the city's economy, with up to $20,000 directly to the city each year, and will not hurt home values with the trains running up the wash.

The anti group is using Memorial Park as a draw to get the entire town interested in the problem of the houses on the spur.

The rock company involved had offered to buy those houses insuring no loss of equity to the owners, but the few who went into escrow backed out of the deal.

Registration deadline close for primary

Deadline for registering to vote in the June primary election, and local registrars are making an all-out effort to serve every eligible person so they may register.

Registrars are set up in several public places. One will be on duty Wednesday and Thursday, April 10 and 11 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Gemmel's Drug in Upland Square Shopping Center, Foothill and San Antonio.

Republican headquarters 628 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. this week, and from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday of next week, and on the final two days, will be open from 10 a.m. to midnight.

Democratic headquarters, 458 N. Euclid, Upland, will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. through Wednesday, but on the final day, April 11, they'll stay open until midnight.

Voters who must register were warned to get it done before they go on vacation next week (spring vacation for all the schools). April 11 threatens to see voters standing in long lines if they wait until the last minute.

Democratic headquarters is between D and Arrow, just north of that big pile of dirt caused by construction of the new Upland Library on the corner of Euclid and D.

Men in Vietnam who must vote by absentee ballot can write Registrar of Voters Eleanor Felton, 646 Sierra Way, San Bernardino 92401, for the proper forms. She will airmail them.

Wives or parents may also pick up forms and send them to servicemen overseas. Absent voter period is from May 6 to May 28, and all absentee ballots should be taken care of during that time.

Republican headquarters will have absentee application forms available about April 15.

Cheer mails Easter packages

Approximately 30 mothers, wives and friends met last week to package and send Easter boxes to some 270 servicemen stationed in Vietnam, and to help pay for Operation Cheer, the group is having a bake sale Saturday, April 13.

Each Easter package consists of cigarettes, books, canned fruit, canned juice, canned meats, pen, tablet, envelopes, socks, Easter eggs, beef jerky, peanut butter, jelly, cookies, gum, peanuts, toothbrush, toothpaste and mints. New names and addresses may be submitted to Cheer at any time. Anyone who would like to have a serviceman's name added to the list can send it, along with his address in Vietnam, Chairman Charlene Bennett said, "If you have someone you would like on the mailing list, send his name, address, birthdate and your name and address to Cheer, c/o Bills Ranch Market, 1383 E. Foothill Blvd., Upland, 91786.

The community project operates out of the Market because it was started by a group there and slowly grew, and the market is donating space for the operation. Help is accepted from anyone.

Recently Cheer was cheered by two boys, John and Peter Benavides, ages 8 and 9, who donated $18.50 to the project.

Cheer receives letters like the following: ...

Operation Cheer, I received the box of goodies two days ago. Every item was a luxury, received whole heartedly by all of us. We thank you for giving us the little joys of home.

Being in a country where all is against you--bugs and weather alike, the gift gave us more than mere pleasure for our stomachs. The thought of knowing people at home care indeed, brought us all "Cheer." As long as there are people like you there will be no oppression on American shores.

People of Bills Ranch Market and Cheer, we of Tingo Water Point, 1st Marine Air Wing, Da Nang R.V.N. thank you for Operation Cheer.

Yours truly
Rudy Sieburth

Magazines were sent to an evacuation hospital, and more magazines have been mailed for servicemen to share with their outfits.

Bake sale April 13

The bake sale on the Saturday before Easter, Mrs. Betty Sammon, will have a cake decorator, on hand from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to decorate cakes for Easter or birthdays.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to the bake sale may do so by dropping off baked goods at the market on the morning of April 13.

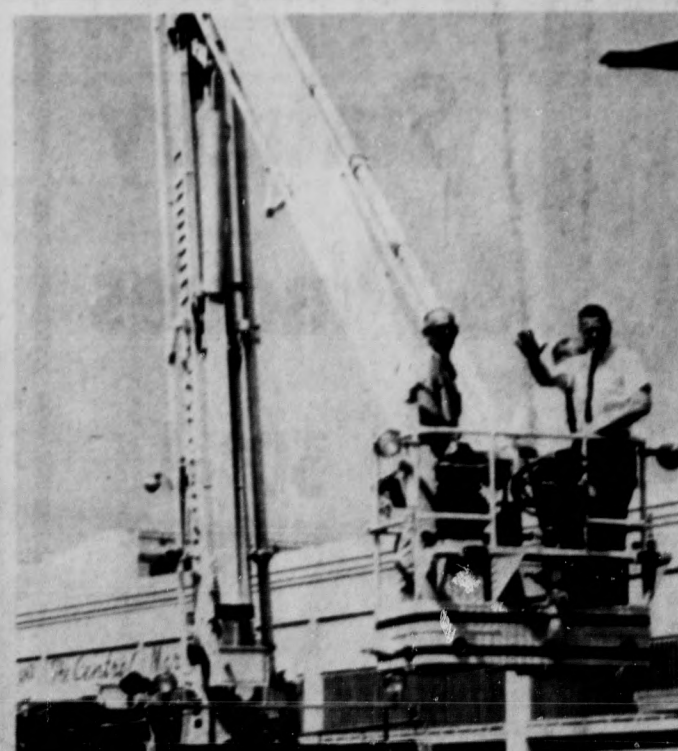

Donations of merchandise from merchants is also sought to include in the packages.

Prior to the Easter mailing, third general mailing of packages by the group, birthday packages and cards for Valentines day and Easter were mailed, and cigarettes and magazines were sent to an evacuation hospital, and more magazines have been mailed for servicemen to share with their outfits.

EASTER BASKETS -- but not from any bunny, but to servicemen in Vietnam, from the volunteer West End Cheer Group. The women packed all kinds of goodies into packages on one side of room, while other women with a little male help wrapped and weighed them for shipment overseas.

This is the third package mailing the group has handled. Funds for Operation Cheer come from contributions, and such events as a bake sale scheduled for Saturday, April 13, at Bill's Ranch Market, Upland, which donates space for the work.

ONE IN EVERY CROWD -- and in this case Upland City Manager Elvin Alder rising above the situation with Fire Chief Leon Lamphear and man demonstrating snorkle for Crown Coach.

Faculty names Gail Anderson to Girls State

The Upland High School faculty has chosen Gail Christ Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Anderson, 341 North Euclid Ave., Upland, as their delegate to the 25th annual session of California Girls State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary which will be June 24 to July 2 this year. This silver anniversary session will be held on the Davis campus of the University of California.

Girls State is a project in practical Americanism and Citizenship training. The selection of Gail is considered the highest honor that can come to a junior girl in Upland High School.

The faculty makes the selection of the Girls State Delegate and alternate. The qualities of leadership, character, scholarship, service, and citizenship are the basis in making the selection. No girl who is being considered for any type of exchange program is eligible for the Girls State delegate or alternate, according to Mrs. Ardis Goforth Unit chairman for Upland Unit 73.

Final choice is made by a group of Faculty Members and Counseling Staff with the approval of American Legion Unit 73. The experience at Girls State gives each girl an opportunity to learn the functions of government thru participation and to better understand its structure. The program is set up to organize first their city, county, primary and general elections for state office and parallels in every way the real election laws of the State of California.

Girls State is a multi-purpose program of the American Legion Auxiliary, covering Americanism, education, community service and also serves as a public relations program with the community as a whole.

Sponsoring a girl to Girls State is not only a worthy investment in the girl selected, but also a good investment in the conscientious and knowledgeable citizenship of future generations.

Upland Unit 73 has participated in this project each year since its inception 25 years ago.

Girls State is an exciting and challenging eight days of work and fun and friendship as the girls set up their mythical cities, counties, and state government, simulating in every way the parallel offices in actual city, county, and state government.

It is a unique learn-by-doing crash program in civics and participation is limited to just one delegate and alternate from the sponsored high schools. Because of the limited housing capacity at the University of California, Davis campus, the program is limited to 560 girls and they come from every part of California. The session dates are June 24 to July 2nd and the session will again be under the supervision of Mrs. Leon A. Farrand, Director, of North Hollywood, who will be completing her 14 year association with this teen program. Participation is limited to girls from the Junior class and they pledge to return to their high school and share their new knowledge and ideas.

The alternate delegate is Miss Christine D. Vavrinek 285 Harford Pl. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo F. Vavrinek.

'The King of Kings' at Methodist Hall for Easter Week

The immortal motion picture of the life of Christ, "The King of Kings," will be shown in Upland at Methodist Fellowship Hall, 263 N. First Ave., Easter Week, April 7 to 14 at 7 p.m. except Thursday and Saturday at 10 a.m., under the sponsorship of Upland Ministerial Union and the First Methodist Church.

First produced in 1927, the picture was so well filmed under the direction of De Mille that it has become the religious classic of all time. The original has been carefully edited, shortened some, new titles have been added. The picture takes one hour and forty-five minutes and has been set to the beautiful music of Bizet.

Audiences everywhere experience a tremendous spiritual impact when they see the immortal scenes of the picture: The Trial, Crucifixion, the Resurrection. H.B. Warner took the part of the Christ so faithfully that all other actors in the part in similar pictures seem pale in comparison.

H.B. Warner plays the part of the Christ with such dramatic power that no other similar picture has ever even remotely approached the truth and beauty of his interpretation of the Savior. Peter was played by Ernest Torrence, who made the "Big Fisherman" a character to remember always. Mary Magdalene was portrayed by Jacqueline Logan. Mary, the Mother of Christ, is represented by Dorothy Cunningham. Montagu Love was the Roman Centurion.

The Earthly Life of the Savior is so faithfully portrayed that the New Testament story comes to life as audiences witness the tremendous religious drama unfolding before them. The miracles, the kindness, the gentleness, the strength, the trial and crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, the Last Supper, the influence of Christ on men and women in his own time are all remarkably acted in the King of Kings.

H.B. Warner tried to live the part of the Christ day by day while he acted in the making of the picture and never again took a major part in a motion picture so that no one would ever associate him and the part of Christ with any ordinary character or with anyone who would reflect discredit on the Christ.

Although many other religious pictures have been produced, the King of Kings goes on year after year being shown around the world - all over the United States, in Europe, in China, Mexico, Canada, Hawaii, almost everywhere.

Among the records of the world's most important historical events and in all the greatest writings of all time, nothing even remotely approaches the awe inspiring grandeur of the story of Jesus of Nazareth, The King of Kings, whose words and deeds have swayed humanity for nearly two thousand years.

It is conservatively estimated that more than two million people have seen this great picture in showings around the world in theatres, churches, prisons, schools, hospitals, army and navy camps. In spite of all the other pictures of the life of Christ ever produced, The King of Kings continues to draw millions of people to see it year after year in cities from coast to coast.

Sponsored by a national committee of 125 leading ministers and laymen in cities from coast to coast, the picture has been shown in a thousand cities of the United States. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman is chairman, Dr. Samuel M. Cavert is Vice-Chairman, Dr. G. Paul Butler is Secretary of the National Committee. Rev. W.A. Schurr is chairman for local arrangements.

The King of Kings will be shown Palm Sunday, April 7, at 7 p.m., through Easter Sunday evening except for Thursday and Saturday nights. There will be a special showing on Good Friday at 10:00 a.m. Admission is free. There will be a free will offering.

For twenty-eight years the picture has been shown from coast to coast in cities from New York to San Francisco, from Minneapolis to New Orleans. In recent years there has been a great wave of renewed interest in this great motion picture.

"KING OF KINGS" -- will be seen at the First Methodist Fellowship hall each day of Holy Week.

Women of First Presbyterian will hear program on drugs

The Inland Empire Teen Challenge center based at Cucamonga, will be featured at the April 4th luncheon of the Women's Association of the Upland First Presbyterian Church. The luncheon will be at 12 o'clock in Hart Fellowship Hall. Included on the program will be Cliff Morrison, businessman and director of the Cucamonga Center along with Bill Miner, director of the narcotics prevention program which Teen Challenge presents to Southern California junior and senior high schools.

The featured speakers of the event will be two ex-heroin addicts telling their life stories in the perils of addiction along with the positive solution they found through faith in Jesus Christ. Manual Gonzales was addicted to heroin for fourteen years. He is now the addict supervisor at the Center. Herb Davis was hooked on heroin for twenty years. He now heads up the school extension program for the Cucamonga center.

Hear the amazing and almost unbelievable connection between alcohol, marijuana, pills, and heroin working in the lives of those who have researched the problem from within the world of heroin addiction.

The luncheon will be served by Circles 8 and 9.

Mrs. John Casenave will lead a Bible study at 11 a.m. in the Choir Room.

There will be a meeting of the Circle Chairmen conducted by Mrs. C.G. Kissick at 11 a.m. o'clock in the Fireside Room.

Dale Arneson wins newspaperboy award

Dale Arneson 11 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Arneson of 371 Austin Way, Upland, was recently awarded a certificate of merit in statewide competition for the title "Outstanding Newspaperboy" of the year.

Dale was recognized for his essay entitled "A Newspaper Route Helps to Prepare a Boy for the Future."

Dale is a straight A student and president of his sixth grade class. He is editor, art editor and advertising manager of his school paper and a member of the school safety committee. He is known as a boy "who always finishes a job he starts."

The following is the text of Dale's winning essay:

TOPIC: A Newspaper route helps to prepare a boy for the future

"I think a newspaper route helps a boy learn to assume responsibility of doing a job. It helps him learn that service counts. It will help him learn that a job must be done, and he can't always play. For, in later life, he will have more responsibilities to more people."

"A boy must learn to save his money, for in later life, he won't have mother or father to give him his weekly allowance. In years to come, he will have a need for money, and wish that he would have saved some. To get ahead in this world, and to get a rewarding job you need a good education. So, saving for college is advisable. When this country was first settled, a person didn't need a good education, because the jobs didn't require much knowledge. But now, with machines doing the work that people used to do, a person needs a good education to get a rewarding job."

55 to visit sister city of Upland

Dr. C. Mervin Russell, President of World Gospel Crusades, Inc., of Upland, recently returned from Caborca, Sonora, Mexico, where he flew his private aircraft to final arrangements for taking 55 high-school young people and youth leaders for a goodwill visit April 8 - 10.

Dr. Russell was received by the president of the municipality, Dr. Carlos Valenzuela, who is arranging for an official reception for the group upon arrival. Plans are being made for them to visit the schools, churches, and industries of the area. The young people, mostly from this area, will bring to the people of Caborca a musical greeting from their sister city, Upland, and present a science film, "Dust or Destiny," in the ball stadium on Wednesday night, April 10.

County approves RR crossing agreements

County Supervisors have approved agreements with the Santa Fe Railroad and the cities of Upland and Montclair providing for additional grade crossing protection at two intersections.

An agreement with Upland and Montclair covers installation of flashing lights at the Benson Ave. crossing. Estimated cost to the county is $1,200.

A second agreement with Montclair is for automatic gates at Centra Ave. Estimated cost to the county is $6,000.

First Mennonite Church will present 'Elijah'

Felix Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," will be presented Friday, April 5, 8 p.m., at the First Mennonite Church, 379 N. Campus. The Music Festival Association's 45 voice choir will be directed by Mr. Jean Pilon of Claremont.

Organist for the presentation is Donna Robb, Riverside. Jack Gittings, Fullerton, is the baritone soloist singing the part of Elijah. Other soloists include: Sally Gittings, soprano; Mary Richards, soprano of LaVerne; Rachael McBeth, contralto; and Frances Wilson, tenor of Upland; Susan Millard, mezzo-soprano, and Patrick Bacchus, tenor of Claremont; and Gary Stephen Cumble, boy soprano, Pomona.

Setting for Mendelssohn's oratorio is the contest on Mt. Carmel between Elijah, prophet of the Lord, and the priests of Baal. The encounter takes place in the days of Ahab, King of Israel (869-850 B.C.). Based on the account in 1 Kings 17-19, the oratorio vividly portrays the conflict. It is from this dramatic oratorio that a number of Mendelssohn's great sacred choruses and solos are frequently sung.

The public is invited. The Music Festival Association, now in its second year, has presented nine concerts in the Pomona Valley Area. An offering for expenses of the Association will be received.

Kids, pets to parade

An Easter pet parade for children will be featured by Upland Square shopping center, Foothill and San Antonio at 11 a.m., Saturday, April 13, the day before Easter. Entries must be in line by 10:45 a.m. in front of the beauty shop, and the parade will proceed along the front of stores. All dogs must be on a leash.

From 11:30 to 4 free rides on a pony-drawn circus wagon will be given all children.

Kindergarten children at Cabrillo School are shown creating original Easter cards for someone special.

It's fun to make Easter cards for Mom and Dad.

From the Mailbox

To The Voters of Upland:
I would like to express my views on the "infamous" railroad spur through the eastern part of our City.

No matter what the results of the vote your Council has spent a lot of it's time and your money trying to give everyone a fair chance. The Council approved the building of the spur track over three years ago and it could have BEEN BUILT AND PUT INTO OPERATION AT THAT TIME. Because so many Upland citizens wanted a chance to express their views on the subject, the Council made this possible by taking the question all the way to the State Supreme Court in order to get a ruling that the subject of railroad franchises COULD BE VOTED ON. It is hard to find anyone that appreciates this, but all of the opponents of the spur really owe the Council a "thank you".

This track was in use when most of the homes that back up to it were built and first occupied. Probably no more than two or three trains a week used it, but they were real trains. The proposed extension of the spur northward from 14th St. has been on the City Master Plan since 1968. Anyone building or buying was on notice that a train might go by again sometime. That same Master Plan shows an industrial use in the wash area north of the flood control dike. We need such an area very badly to help with the taxes we home owners face. I have always felt that this was a good use for the wash land and have hoped that an industrial park would develop there to provide jobs and income. One of the first needs of an industrial park is a railroad.

A more immediate effect is that it has been estimated the railroad will take the place of 40 sand and gravel trucks and trailers a day. That many less on our streets and freeways. (NOTE - I did not say 40 less than are running now.) As to the danger to children; we all know an accident can happen any time, but hundreds of children in Upland have crossed the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific tracks going to and from school and stores for over 60 years and to the best of my knowledge there has never been an accident involving a child on foot. These tracks are used many times a day, sometimes at high speed - the proposed spur line train would make one round trip a day at extremely slow speed.

To sum this up, I can sympathize with the families who live adjacent to the existing and proposed spur tracks. I don't blame them for hoping it will be abandoned, but in the interests of the rest of the 30,000 persons in our City I must strongly recommend that the track be put into use. Vote yes!

A. M. Hawkins Jr.
Councilman
City of Upland

1339 Alta Avenue
Upland, California

To the Editor:
By now I'm sure lots of people are tired of hearing about the railroad spur, but the results of the election will mean the end of a long fight for a cause that a great many people believe in. If it was your neighborhood, your children, your home, would you not stand up for what you believe to be right? Is this not the American way? If the results of the election are not in our favor, at least we know that we have done our best, so please, leave out the sarcasm and ridicule in your newspaper. For in this day and age of non-involvement, at least we have cared enough about our community and the people within it to become involved with the issues concerning it.

Sincerely,

Editor of Upland News

Dear Sir,

Perhaps I can shed some light on why Foothill Knollers generate heat.

We feel like we are the "step children" of Upland and so we are extra sensitive and perhaps a little rude to the ones who make us feel this way.

The people who invested their hard earned money in these homes, were told years ago, and new buyers are still being told, that the spur track would be removed and no train would run. We were told that shopping centers would rise up, where weed patches still thrive all around us today.

A few months ago we had to sign petitions to prevent commercial amusement parks from going up a block away from us.

All citizens of Upland should be aware of what they will lose if the train passes by Memorial Park.

I can't believe any voter who has spent an hour by the sun dial and rose garden, drinking in the quiet beauty of the mountains, will want to trade that in for the noise a train would bring. I've been there when the citrus trains passed by and it's a rude awakening. The children always run to the tracks and are always followed by frantic parents shouting for them to come back where it is safe.

There was such a lot of work involved in getting the petitions out to get the question of the spur on the ballot. I remember cold rainy nights when we walked the streets of Upland, ringing door bells and hoping there weren't too many bad dogs loose! Ugh!

There were some humorous moments too - one lady on 8th St. near downtown Upland, answered the door, then ran across the room and shook her sleeping husband awake shouting, "Those people finally got here with that petition to keep the train from going right down the middle of Memorial Park."

God bless her! and through the years we waited for the court decisions and we were delirious with joy when we found we had won in the Supreme Court and done something that had never been done before. The people could decide by ballot if a train would run!

I invite the people of Upland to drive through Foothill Knolls and see for themselves how close this infamous Spur is to these homes on either side of it. I have faith that the voters will do for us what we would do for them if they had this problem.

I feel it might be fair for the railroad to sue the city. The city wouldn't feel $40,000 but the individual home owners in Foothill Knolls would feel several thousand each that they will probably lose if the trains run.

Yours truly
Lee Champion

Loan fees may be deductible

California real property owners may be entitled to an additional tax-savings deduction, according to a recent clarification by the Internal Revenue Service on the deductibility of "points" paid in real estate transactions.

F.S. Schmidt, I.R.S. District Director, stated, "Loan fees may qualify as an interest deduction when paid by the buyer of real property, whether or not a personal residence." He emphasizes that, in order to be deductible, the fees must be paid for the use of money rather than for services.

"Points" paid in obtaining VA or FHA loans are for services and are not deductible. Generally, in other mortgage financing one point is for services and the excess, if any, is deductible as interest by the buyer.

If the loan fees are paid by the seller, they are deductible only as selling expenses in the computation of gain or loss on the sale of property.

Save for a rainy day.

I hope all 10,000 voters turn out and speak their minds in the election Tuesday, but I wouldn't bet on it.

In the Council race, I can predict the two incumbents will get back in, and the voters could do worse than Mike Rossiter and George Gibson. Challengers have a lot to overcome because Upland has progressed quite well in the past few years.

After listening to the candidates in open forum, I don't think the challengers as a group or individuals have made a very strong case. Some of them are pretty weak.

One I particularly like is Chuck Machalicky. Seems to be an earnest, thoughtful young man, not a rabble rouser, not an "aggressor" like a couple of others.

In the city clerk race, I admit a certain prejudice. I've been working with Dee Carpenter for seven years, minus some time she was not working in the Upland News office, until she was called back in emergency about five years ago.

I think she'd make a good clerk. If she doesn't, she knows I'll write my honest opinion right where I'm writing this one.

Hazel Cassell, long-time city clerk, thinks she'd be good too, signed her petition, as did Mayor Jim Christensen, Alan Barry, Marilyn Blair, Bill Silverthorne, Rosalie Kamanasky and Bill and Barbara Valion.

That railroad spur certainly is a burning issue in Upland. The group that is fighting it, primarily a group that lives right near it, certainly hates to be told that they are a minority.

There are about 30,000 people in Upland, and the rail spur could be a boon to the majority, even if it were somewhat less than pleasant to that minority.

They also don't like to listen to reason. The anti-spur group is guilty of using scare tactics to defeat the issue, and that I don't think anyone likes. The spur by Memorial Park is already there, is not really an issue, yet that small group of anti's is dragging it in, making noises about children being run over, add nauseum.

There are fast trains through town, past residential areas. Any children been run over? I wouldn't want a railroad in my backyard, but then I wouldn't buy a house with a railroad near it. When I see tracks, I expect trains, no matter what someone tells me to expect. An airport would indicate planes, and a major street or freeway would indicate to me some traffic noise. Maybe I'm just overly suspicious.

When those meetings are held up in the Foothill Knolls area, there's a lot of loose talk, not enough facts.

Like the price of houses. Item, a real estate man is accused of picking up a couple of houses at about $12,500 because of the railroad's nearness. I hear they were run down, and when fixed up, came up with appraisals of $19,500. That was brought up at a public meeting, but was glossed over.

By the way, there's a house near San Antonio and the main Santa Fe track (five fast trains a day isn't it, not just one up and one down slowly) that recently sold for $21,500 in the last 60 days, and was bought three years ago for $19,500.

The group near the spur is trying its damndest to enlist the aid of people closer to Euclid, but if the new spur gets a favorable vote, the old spur near Euclid would be torn out, doing those people near Euclid a favor. Best they take a good look at the situation. How about getting some trucks off Euclid Ave., by railroad-ing some gravel?

Up in that spur area, the economic health of the entire city, and their property tax bills, doesn't seem to concern them much. Wish I were so rich I could overlook such things.

There is one guy making a lot of noise up around Foothill Knolls I'd like to ask a couple of questions, a Mr. Al Patterson.

I hear he is moving to Claremont, and I wonder what is behind his big anti-spur push?

There's another guy that is giving me a pain, Alfred Sal-kind, would-be councilman who is trying to ride into a council seat on the spur track. He is a retired businessman but proved in public at a meeting that he didn't know what a Chamber of Commerce is. Something wrong with that picture.

I don't like railroad companies. Few years ago I wrote a column, probably the worst things ever said in print about railroads. I still hold no brief for them. Rock companies? I think make an awful mess of the landscape, but I like to give the devil his due, and the spur could help balance the economy of the city.

I don't think the residents of Foothill Knolls can laugh at their taxes. Some I know wish they weren't so high.

The more emotional screams I hear from the Foothill Knolls area, the more I want to put some facts before the general public.

Why don't those people who are so unhappy accept the rock company's offer to buy their houses so they won't lose any money? Market price going up in spite of any and all railroads and they stand to make more if they wait a few years?

I flatly predict at least a 20% increase in the value of houses in the area in the next five years, spur or no. That's based on an intimate knowledge of real estate and the growth factors, the approaching boom in this area.

I'll buy the Chamber of Commerce position: all the public should know all the facts, and then vote accordingly. That won't set too well with the anti-spur group. They don't want the facts out in the open -- they want the spur defeated.

Going up Higher And higher

The poor, misunderstood extension telephone.

What it is, what it isn't.

It is a second telephone in your home.

It isn't paying for a separate line into your house. Or paying for a separate number.

And it isn't paying a double telephone bill.

What it is is merely an extension from your present phone. And if you have to dash through the house or scramble downstairs to say out-of-breath hellos, it's something you need.

It's not even a sensational new fad—by now four out of ten homes in America already have an extension phone.

And the average family takes over 400 incoming calls a year on it, and uses it for at least that many outgoing calls.

Last of all, it wouldn't cost much to try one for a couple of months, and this would tell you everything.

Whether it is, or isn't, for you.

Forum draws 30

Seven candidates for city council spoke and answered questions before a crowd of more than 30, including their spouses and supporters, Monday night at Upland High School faculty lounge.

The League of Women Voters of West San Bernardino County, who were assisted by the Business and Professional Women's Club, were in charge.

Robert E. Burroughs attacked the present Council for lack of "positive action" to prevent sewer stoppages, and the "total disregard" for the people in the "disgraceful" way the Civic Center was handled.

Burroughs came out strong against the famous railroad spur which he said would benefit one rock company, not the people or the city.

In answer to a question written from the audience he said he would have voted against the Civic Center because of the "very expensive" and it is being built on. He said there was no question of need for a library and fire facilities.

Ralph O. Douglas favors some clean research and development industry adjacent to table airport, and finding a way to build a golf course in the near future.

Douglas wants more time for the public at Council meetings, more firemen on duty at one time, throwing out the sign ordinance and drawing up a new one which won't keep business out of town, as he feels the present one does.

He also favors more control of the city budget by Council, which he says changed only six items amounting to $40,000 in the current $3.5 million budget.

He also criticized the way the Civic Center was handled, and during the question-answer period, said though, if he were a member of council when the vote was taken, he would have voted for it.

Incumbent George Gibson was next to step up, and like Ronald (Mike) Rossitter who came shortly after, stood on the record of Council's accomplishments in the past four years.

It's important to make Upland a quality city, not like some of the others in the area. Pomona has a higher tax rate, he pointed out, without the quality.

He pointed to the fast-moving past four years, during which, he said, Council has faced up to its problems, improved fire and police service, started the Civic Center that has been talked about without result since 1946.

Charles Machalicky offered voters his technical background, which he said present Council lacks.

On the railroad spur, he said it was in the wrong place, needed, but not in its present location.

Candidate planning coffees

Several coffee hours to which the public is invited have been scheduled by the committee to re-elect Ronald (Mike) Rossitter to the Upland City Council.

Among them: Thursday, 10:30 a.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blanton, 605 W. 16th St.; and at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Walton Wolfe, 1270 W. 14th St.

Friday, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cook, 936 W. 7th St.

Sunday, 3:30 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perri, 825 N. 1st Ave.

Monday, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Rutledge, 1641 Maywood.

Some of the criticisms leveled at the present council.

On the Civic Center, Rossitter pointed out that after the bond issue had failed to get a 2/3 majority (it did get a simple majority) public meetings were well publicized and held, and it was obvious that a majority wanted the Civic Center, and so council went ahead.

Rossitter spoke at length on the troubles that sewers suffer, the combination of grease and detergents coating inside of sewer lines because garbage disposers emulsify those waste products, and the complicated problems of sewer maintenance, the cost, and the crews that team them out.

Rossitter also explained the financing (none by the city) of downtown revitalization. Douglas, in answer to a question on revitalization, said he was in favor of it, but he feels the problem downtown is in merchandising and revitalizing advertising.

The demand for natural gas in the U. S. will be 43 per cent greater in 1975 than it was in 1966, according to Oil Facts. The figure will rise to an estimated 25 1/2 trillion cubic feet by then.

Jay R. Thrasher said he would like to see an improved recreation program, not only for teenagers, but for adults and a full time recreation supervisor. Where such a program is in effect, he said, the police have fewer troubles.

He also said seven firemen on duty on a shift seemed too few for a city of 30,000.

He favored having a balanced community of businesses, industries and homes for a healthier tax base.

During the question and answer period, Rossitter and Gibson offered rebuttals to

Net drops

The Annual Report of Otis Elevator Company for 1967 confirms a prior release showing consolidated net income of $2.47 per share or $20,022,000, compared with $3.11 per share or $25,183,000 in 1966. Consolidated contract bookings for 1967 aggregated $509,257,000 compared with $475,481,000 in 1966.

In the report Fayette S. Dunn, president, said that 1967 earnings reflected the adverse effects of two major strikes partially offset by the effect of the company's profit improvement program. Headed that 1966 figures were restated because of a pooling of interests growing out of an acquisition during 1967 and a change in the method of computing earnings per share.

Year-end 1967 backlog, the largest on record, assure high activity through 1968 and 1969, while forecasts from 272 offices in the United States and 409 in other countries indicate further sales gains. Efforts are being intensified to improve earnings by reducing costs and accelerating product and market development.

Embattled assemblyman battling for tax cut bill

Embattled Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-55th District, announced in Sacramento that his controversial bill, AB 512, will be heard by the Revenue and Taxation Committee on April 24.

The Briggs' bill would roll back the State personal income tax to the 1966 level. The tax increase came about in the 1967 session of the Legislature, purportedly to pay off the deficit left by the Brown administration. Briggs has pointed out that the "Brown debt has been paid off, so I see no reason to continue the increase in the State personal income tax."

"I'm delighted that we were able to get the hearing for this bill on Apr. 24. The hearing is just long enough after the tax deadline of April 15 for the taxpayers to recover from the shock of paying 200 or 300% more than they have ever paid before, even though they may not have had an increase in salary. Perhaps some of them will phone their own Assemblyman before the 24th, or even show up at the Committee hearing to let the committee members know how they feel about this bill." In an earlier report, Briggs indicated that he would feel a "lot better about the chances of passage (of his bill) if my constituents were voting on it" rather than his colleagues in the Legislature. Asked if the situation had changed, Briggs replied, "You know, it's funny. Many of the committee members have admitted to me privately that they are in complete agreement with my bill, but it seems they're more influenced by the bureaucrats in Sacramento than they are by their own constituents. Their main hang-up seems to be 'if we cut this tax back, where will we get the money to replace it? It seems to me that the first question we should be asking is where can we effect cuts in spending to make this tax decrease possible.'"

"I have some recommendations as to where the $400 million dollar loss in revenue can be met," Briggs said. "First of all, nearly $200 million is tentatively slated to counties where property tax relief may or may not result. Why not just lower the personal income tax by that amount and not take it from the taxpayers in the first place?" Briggs questioned.

"Secondly, the projections in the area of both Welfare and Medi-Cal indicate an increase of 30 to 50% whereas other budgetary items are increasing only 7 to 12%.

There's no question but what further cuts can be made in those areas," Briggs said. "And finally, whatever happened to the Governor's Task Force On Efficiency and Economy report which recommended operations to save $688 million? If we assume that just 30% of those recommendations are possible, we're talking about saving $206 million dollars. So, there's no question that we could offset the $400 million dollar loss in revenue which would result from passage of my bill, AB 512. But first we must have the desire to do so."

Briggs stated, "I believe that the only true tax relief is the kind where you don't take it from the taxpayers to begin with. This idea of taking it from the taxpayers, then taking out a 'state brokerage fee' and giving the rest back, doesn't make sense to me at all. Therefore, I am preparing a major presentation on April 24 to secure passage of AB 512.

The Assemblyman claims mail on the subject of his bill continues to increase as the tax deadline gets closer. "The Governor's office in particular has noticed the heat," said Briggs. "Of the thousands of letters received on AB 512, all are outraged at the increase, and no political verbiage will satisfy them this time!" Briggs added, "Assemblyman Veneman (Chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee) has indicated to me that his mail is running inordinately high on this subject. Most of the letters come from people saying they have never written a Legislator before, but that the drastic increase in taxes they're suffering this year has brought on such bitterness and frustration as to move them to write their Legislators adamantly demanding reductions! "These letter-writers are normally the 'quiet element' in our society. They work for a living, pay their taxes, abide by our laws and mind their own business. But they are beset by a feeling of futility due to constantly increasing taxes which are eating away at their buying power," Briggs said. "In other words, they're 'earning more but enjoying it less.'"

I honestly believe that Legislators in the State are in for a big surprise from this 'quiet element'. Normally, the only crowds we get in Sacramento are students demonstrating against tuition, or welfare people demonstrating against a cut, or some kind of demonstration against reducing anything! But the 'quiet element' stays home and relies on his elected representative to act on his behalf."

"Numerous letters in my office," Briggs concluded, "indicate the politicians cannot rely on these people to remain quiet much longer. In fact, many of them have requested they be informed of the hearing date so they can appear." "And now that the public knows it can attend these open committee meetings, it will not surprise me if the halls in Sacramento are jammed on the afternoon of April 24 by the 'quiet element' in the first step of a tax rebellion. It's going to be interesting in any event, and I am looking forward to it."

Rainbow for Needles area announced

Four thousand pounds of 8-inch rainbow trout will be stocked in the Colorado River just above Needles during the first week of April. The Willow Beach National Fish Hatchery will stock the fish at the Boy Scout Camp and Wetmore Beach.

During April the federal hatchery will also stock rainbows in the Bullhead City section of the Colorado River at nine locations on Lake Mohave, all in the Nevada-Arizona sector.

Fifty-five high schools to compete in Chaffey Invitational Track Meet

The 39th annual Chaffey Invitational Track Meet involving schools from throughout Southern California (Montclair and Alta Loma High Schools included) will be held Saturday, April 6, at Graber Field, with preliminary trials at 10 a.m. and finals at 2 p.m.

Fifty-five schools to date have expressed the intention of entering the 1968 Chaffey Invitational Meet. Each school will have an opportunity to compete for two separate team trophies — C. C. Graber perpetual cup for the winning school in the Open Meet and the Drew Carriage Co. cup for the Novice Meet victor.

Individual trophies will be awarded in two open meet events. The winner of the "Fischer Mile" run will have his name engraved on the trophy presented by the Chaffey Student Body in honor of Mr. Fischer, originator of the meet. For the first time in the meet's history the "Shorty Smith" Memorial Trophy for the fastest 880 will be awarded this year. Mr. Smith was the official starter at the Invitational for many years, with his memory being perpetuated through this trophy.

Southland trout limits reviewed

Although Southern California has an all-year trout season, the Department of Fish and Game reminds anglers of the following seasonal and area-by-area bag and possession limits that apply:

There is a 5-trout limit year around at Cuchuma Lake (Santa Barbara County), Irvine Lake (Orange County), Legg Lake and Puddingstone Reservoir (Los Angeles County) and Wohlford Lake (San Diego County).

There is a 10-trout limit year around on the Colorado River.

With those exceptions, the following seasonal limits apply:

In Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties—5-trout winter limit now in effect. Changes to 10-trout limit April 27. Changes back to 5-trout limit November 1.

In Orange and San Diego Counties—10-trout limit now in effect. Changes to 5-trout winter limit on September 9. Changes back to 10-trout limit next March 1.

At no time may the weight of a limit of trout exceed ten pounds and one fish.

THEY BROKE IT LATER -- that bottle of Cucamonga champagne held by Ann Van Dyk, Miss Ontario International Airport. On her left is Roger Cable, president of Cable Commuter Airline. On her right is William E. Myers, chairman of the line, whose wife, Shelby, broke the bottle on the plane that carries her name. Quite a contrast in transportation was provided by Regina Winery's Lilliputian horses and stage coach driven by Les Shirley, and that race car in foreground.

'Velvet Glove next for Garrick group

Changes that are being wrought in Catholic schools provide the humor and warmth of the play "The Velvet Glove," by Rosemary Casey, the next production of The Garrick Players, at The Castle, C and Lemon, Ontario, on April 19, 20, 26 and 27 at 8:15.

Maxine Coats Lentz, Glendora, is serving as director. A charter member of Garrick Players, she has frequently served as director, presenting "Mr. Barry's Etchings," "Good-bye, My Fancy," "The Curious Savage," and several others. She is a graduate of Grinnell College in Iowa, and has belonged to theater groups in Oshkosh, Wisc., and Lake Park, Ill., before coming to California. Three of this year's apprentice members of Garrick Players will take roles: Don Batten, Montclair, plays Professor Pearson. He has been seen in "Laura," "Dear Ruth," and "The Game." Joni Jones, Ontario, playing the secretary, made her debut in "White Sheep of the Family." Pat Olchawa, Ontario, was seen in "Lizzie Borden," and served as set designer for "Laura."

Regular members playing major roles are Gloria McGinnis, Ontario, who takes the role of the devout but scheming Mother Hildebrand. She has been featured in "The Curious Savage," "Mr. Barry's Etchings," "Good-bye, My Fancy," and others. Deloras McNally, Montclair, will play Sister Lucy. She appeared in "Good-bye, My Fancy," "Lizzie Borden," and "Antigone." Sandi McKenzie, Ontario, plays the ambitious Sister Monica. She was seen in "Harvey," and "Desperate Desmond's Dastardly Deed." Clark Marshall, Upland, current president of Garrick Players, is cast as the harsh Bishop Gregory. Marshall was seen in "Mr. Barry's Etchings," "Antigone" and "Dear Phoebe."

Two newcomers are making their stage debuts. Neither claims any stage experience since high school, Mike Minnehan, Pomona, plays Monsignor Burke, and Victor Shrubert, Temple plays the young Mr. Barton.

Tickets are available from members of the cast, at the door, or at 325 N. Euclid, Ontario. Information about reservations and group ticket sales may be obtained by calling 983-3026. This play has been approved for family entertainment by authorities of the Catholic Church.

Mikesell seeks support for tax-cutting bill

Chairman Dan Mikesell of the County Board of Supervisors is trying to whip up public support for a bill in the state legislature that could cut 32 cents off the County tax rate.

The bill is Assembly Bill 149 authored by John Vene-man, and it will be passed only if the people of this county and people throughout the state urge their legislators to vote for it, Mikesell said.

That one cent of sales tax added to the existing four-cent tax in 1967 included one-half cent for property tax relief in 1968, or it was to lapse, Mikesell pointed out.

Several proposals have been made, but none could get sufficient agreement to pass, according to the County, but "the one advanced by the Governor after a request by key county leaders would allocate receipts from the half-cent sales tax to all counties for the express purpose of property tax reduction."

In consideration of that proposal, counties will take over state cost on nine state-county sharing programs and household furniture and personal effects property taxes would be eliminated as a benefit to the householder.

Tax relief to San Bernardino county residents is estimated at some $4 to $5 million, on that 32-cent reduction.

Mikesell urged everyone to wire or write immediately to:

Hon. William E. Coombs, Senator, 20th Dist., State of California, Capitol Building, Sacramento, 95814 and

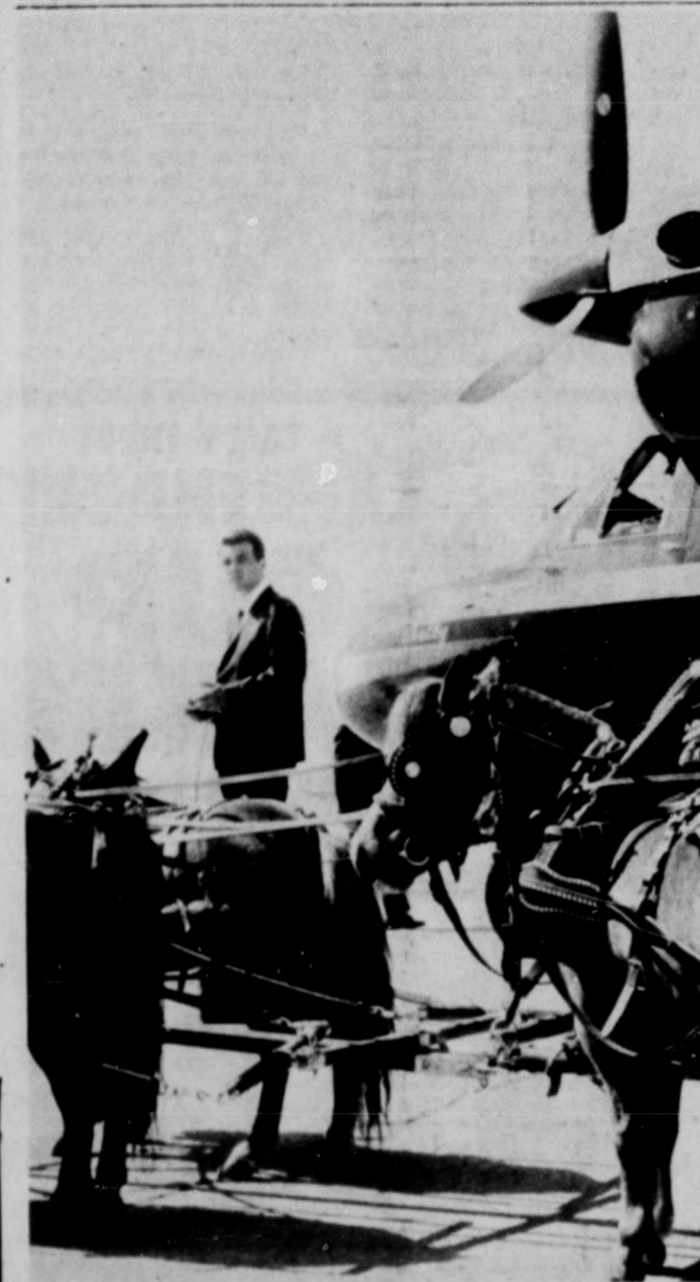

Hon. John V. Briggs, Assemblyman, 35th Dist., State of California, Capitol Building, Sacramento, 95814, or Hon. John P. Quimby, Assemblyman, 72nd Dist., State of California, 4167 State Capitol, Sacramento, 95814.

Two-cent-pound flight event rescheduled

Weather cancelled the two-penny-a-pound flights planned for last Sunday at Brackett Field, La Verne, but the San Gabriel Chapter of the 99s rescheduled the event for next Sunday, April 7.

Hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., but the women pilots (that's what 99s are) will start earlier and fly later if the customers are there and weather permits.

ROGER CABLE -- he's president of Cable Commuter Airlines, which Monday sent that speedy prop-jet on its first passenger-carrying flight between Ontario International, Los Angeles, and China Lake. Plane is first of 12 20-passenger models that will be flying regular on fast growing Upland-based airline. Those miniature horses are from Cucamonga's Regina Winery.

They were photographed at dedication of first of 12 Dehavland twin prop-jets that started service Monday. In five months Cable Commuter has become fifth largest of 71 leading commuter airlines, and Roger Cable expects to be No. 1 by 1969.

Right. Starting April 1st you can take the newest bird flying -- THE CABLE JET.

Don't drive to L.A. International. You won't find a place to park anyway.

Fly! 17 minutes. Over the freeways.

If your time and your nerves are important, take the easy way out, (of Ontario that is). Cable Commuter Airlines will take you any hour of the day to Los Angeles Airport--land you right at the TWA Satellite. Simple? Right again.

We'll even write your ticket to any place in the world, and see that you and your baggage are on the same plane.

OK. If you still want to buck that freeway, spend an hour parking your car, go ahead. But if you happen to glance up while you're waiting for that light at Century and Airport Blvds., you might see 20 relaxed guys in a Cable Jet passing you overhead. Think about it. Then call your local travel agent or Cable Commuter Airlines at (714) 985-2803 or (213) 966-0561.

Federal and state motor fuel taxes are costing U.S. motorists $2.9 million a day in 1968.

Oil Facts points out that this is an increase of 83 per cent over the daily collections in 1958. The combined state and federal gasoline tax rates now average 10.72 cents a gallon -- the equivalent of a 47 per cent sales tax on the retail price of regular-grade gasoline.

As spring approaches, it's a good idea to clean your house thoroughly to make it fire-safe.

Areas like the attic, basement, utility room and closets have a way of becoming storage places for magazines, old clothes, furniture and other unused items. These discarded articles can be highly combustible and make the possibility of fire much greater, says the American Insurance Association.

When cleaning out closets or attics use a flashlight—never a candle or lighted match.

So if you roll up your sleeves and clean up these areas of your home, you can insure against the hazards of fire.

Free trees for visitors to Claremont Savings

More than 2,000 seedling trees will be given away free by Claremont Savings and Loan, beginning April 1, as part of a "Keep Your Community Green" program, created and sponsored by the savings association, Robert Martens, vice-president and manager announced, recently.

"The free trees we are donating to Claremont Savings visitors and which we have given to the city, are only a beginning," Martens said. "We hope other businesses and groups will find the important subject of community beautification worthwhile and lend their support during the months and years ahead."

The free trees will be given to Claremont Savings' visitors on a one-per-family basis during the first 10 days of April. The seedlings are up to 12 inches in height and include palm, pine, flowering and shade varieties. Camellias and Birds of Paradise for indoor planting will be available for those without lawn space for the treelets. Each plant or treelet will be accompanied by planting instructions.

Because of the civic nature of the program, several organizations have contributed exhibition plants and other material which will be on display.

The world famous Armstrong Nurseries have brought several species of plant life from their Ontario nursery for viewing, as has the Santa Ana Botanical Gardens and the Los Angeles County Department of Arboreta and Botanic Gardens, and Claremont Nurseries.

Free, colorful 16-page booklets concerning the use of trees have been donated by the Southern California Edison Company. Other free literature which will be available includes a Landscape Planting Guide from the Kellogg Supply Co., and samples and literature from Black Magic, another leading producer of garden supply products. Claremont Savings and Loan is located at 400 N. India Hill Blvd., in Claremont.

Second installment is due on County property taxes

The second installment of San Bernardino County Real Property Taxes for the 1967-68 fiscal year are now due and payable and will be delinquent if not paid by 5 p.m., April 10, 1968.

G. Leon Gregory, San Bernardino County Tax Collector, urged taxpayers to mail their remittances early and thereby avoid the last minute rush. Taxpayers may either mail the second installment stub with their check or money order in the even amount of taxes, or, if a receipt is desired, may mail the entire bill for validation. In the latter case, a self-addressed, stamped envelope will hasten the return of the receipt.

Tax remittances forwarded through the mail must, by State Law, be postmarked on or before the April 10, delinquent date, after that date, a 6% penalty on the second amount and a $3.00 cost charge attach pursuant to State Law.

A review of the accounting records of the Tax Collector's Office indicate that, of the total tax charge for the current fiscal year of $121,592,505.06, the sum of $70,531,655.03 or 58% has been collected through March 1, 1967. A comparison of the collection experience for the last fiscal year revealed that 57% of the total tax had been collected as of similar date.

Holcomb Valley ranch project start set

"Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, plans to begin the initial development of their new Holcomb Valley Scout Ranch in the late Spring of this year," according to Dr. William Toothaker, Council president. "As soon as the snow is off the ground, we'll begin," Toothaker stated.

Under the leadership of Dr. Daniel Milliken, Holcomb Valley Development Chairman, the first project will be to move the County road that now runs through the middle of the camp property. Permission to make this change has already been granted by the Forestry Service and San Bernardino County.

The next projects will then involve the development of water and sanitation facilities and the building of four troop campsites, a ranger's cabin and storage buildings. Architects and contractors are now being considered for this work.

The Holcomb Valley Scout Ranch is located five miles northeast of Fawnskin near Big Bear Lake. A capital fund raising campaign was initiated in 1966 under the chairmanship of Paul D. Walker, president of Pomona First Federal Savings and an executive Board member of the Council. To date, more than $275,000 towards the ten year goal of one million dollars has been raised.

The Old Baldy Council's Service Center is located at 120 W. San Jose Ave., Claremont. The Council is a participating member of the Los Angeles County United Crusade, West End and Fontana United Funds. They serve more than 9,000 boys in the Pomona Valley-Fontana area.

WE Raquet club sets activities

West End Raquet Club of the Inland Tennis League has scheduled a match against Victorville club members April 21. The Sunday event will last from noon to about 4 p.m., on the Chaffey College tennis courts.

Next local function of the Club, which is open to anyone interested in the game of tennis, will be a meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 6, at an appropriate place, the Chaffey College courts. It will be a combined business and playing session.

There are about 25 actively playing members in the club, and always room for more persons interested in tennis. Also being organized now is a women's group. Women do not have to be experts at the game to join and enjoy it, according to President G. Linden, which he says is true of male members.

He may be contacted at 987-3766 for further information.

The Inland Tennis League includes the West End and Victorville clubs mentioned earlier, plus clubs in San Bernardino, Redlands, Corona and Riverside and the Aerospace club of San Bernardino.

Social Security and the clergy

By Hugh B. Chapman, Pomona District Manager Social Security Administration

Income received from the ministry will automatically be covered by social security under the new social security amendments. Until the 1967 change in the law, a member of the clergy could be covered under social security under an individual, voluntary arrangement; if he wished social security protection he signed a form stating that he wished his income from the ministry to be covered. He then paid a portion of his salary as his social security contribution on the basis of that of a self-employed person.

As of Jan. 1, 1968, income from the ministry will be covered automatically on the same basis as that for other wage earners and self-employed persons, unless the clergyman has objections based on conscience or religious principle.

As under the old law, a clergyman covered by this provision reports his income and makes his tax contributions as if he were self-employed, even though he may be working as an employee. He will pay his first social security taxes on income from 1968.

The new provisions do not apply to those clergymen who elected coverage under the old law. They will continue to be covered.

If a clergyman who had not already chosen to come under social security before 1968 does not wish social security coverage he must file an application for an exemption and a statement that he is opposed to receiving social security benefits or other public insurance based on services as a clergyman, by reason of conscience or religious principle.

The application must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service by April 15, 1970, unless he enters the ministry in 1969 or later; in that case he will have until April 15 of the second year after the year in which he became a clergyman to request exemption.

The new provision does not affect members of religious orders who have taken a vow of poverty. As before, they are not covered by social security. For further information about social security for clergymen, ask at your social security office for leaflet SSI-9. The Social Security Office is located at 445 East Holt, Pomona. It is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and from 8:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. on Mondays.

Boys start selling May 25 Scout-O-Rama tickets

Cubs, Scouts and Explorers of the Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, held their Scout-O-Rama ticket sales kick-off Monday.

The Council's Scout-O-Rama will be held May 25, at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds.

Kick-off locations included Rancho District (Chino) and Broken Arrow District (Ontario and Montclair) at the Serrano Junior High School, 4725 San Jose Ave., Montclair; Big Horn District (Fontana and Etiwanda) at the Security First National Bank, Valley Sierra Branch; and Serrano District (Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Mt. Baldy) at Security First National Bank, 40 W. Foothill, Upland.

Council ticket sales chairman is Gerry Busby of Pomona. He will be assisted by Tom Kelleher III of Ontario, Gene Miller of Fontana and Bill Trueblood of Upland.

The 9,000 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers selling tickets, which are $1 each, will have the opportunity to earn prizes for their efforts. The list of prizes includes compasses, flashlights, pocket knives, signal set, swim masks, first aid kits, pen and pencil sets, badminton sets and many more.

Look what electricity is starting now

A sequence of flashing lights on the electric "christmas tree" is the go signal for these 200 mph dragsters.

About eight seconds later, at the end of the quarter mile, electronic timers record their speed to the thousandth of a second.

From the elaborate scoreboards in the new stadia to the super powerful lights that make night football and baseball possible, just about every sport you can think of has come to depend on electricity in some way.

Electricity has brought about a "golden age" for the sports fan. Television and radio let him keep up with dozens of different sports around the world. The cost is so little most people don't even think about it. Millions of avid fans are getting the greatest spectator bargain in history.

Only electricity can do so much for so little.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, his-

Receives Honor

GLENDORA - Supervisor Chairman Frank G. Bonelli has announced award of a special certificate to Mrs. Cora E. West, 460 East Bennett Avenue, Glendora, in recognition of her contributions to an 85-year rainfall reporting service.

She is continuing the record started by her father which is now the oldest in Glendora and the fifth oldest in Los Angeles County.

Mrs. West will be presented with a County Flood Control District award at the February 21 meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship Club at the First Christian Church in Glendora.

"This record reflects extremely valuable service to the Flood Control District for many years and this activity, for which no pay is received, is worthy of the highest commendation by her fellow citizens," Bonelli said.

Fashion Show Slated

An elaborate bridal fashion show covering every phase of wedding planning will be presented by Citrus College Associated Women Students on Thursday, April 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Azusa-Glendora campus student center. The third annual event will be open to the public without charge.

Modeling bridal ensembles in flower bedecked surroundings will be Kathie O'Connell, Ada Rhodes, Susi Jensen and Marilyn Hedding of Glendora; Linda Rawlins and Jeanette Ogg of Arcadia.

Bridal attendants' attire will be worn by Marilyn Waters, Linda De Caro and Debbie Allen of Glendora; Donna Lindsey and Mary Nichols of Monrovia; Marie Klein and Suzanne Moore of Temple City and Doris Eyer of Claremont.

What the well dressed groom is wearing this year will be shown by James Foley and Dennis Daoust of Glendora, Clarke Moseley and John Proffler of El Monte, and Mike Gibson of Duarte.

Among college faculty members assuming roles of parents in the bridal parties will be Dr. Dorothy Kearney, Mrs. Jacqueline Dickinson, Ross L. Handy, Chris Leason and Robert P. Jenkins.

Day and evening ensembles suitable for the wedding trip also will be shown.

In addition to wedding fashions, the show will present suggestions for jewelry, photography, invitations, wedding cakes, silver and china.

Celia Baumberger of Glendora, president of Associated Women Students, is chairman of the arrangements committee. Assisting are Letitia Weitzell, Gail Paul, Lynn Jonasson, and Marilyn Hedding of Glendora; Elaine Carey of Monrovia, Carole Smith of Claremont, Sherian Jordan of Duarte and Marie Klein of Temple City.

A large number of Glendora and Azusa businesses are assisting in staging the bridal show. They include Windsor Fashions, Lighthouse Men's Shop, Neufeld Jewelers, Haral's Photography and Mrs. Simmons Bakery. The evening's prizes will be provided by Center Stationers, Dutch Door, Village Bookshop and Bill's Sporting Goods.

Luau Planned By Newcomers

The Pomona Valley Newcomers' Couples will have a Luau April 6, at 8 p.m. The host and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Salvesson, 3220 Florida street, Pomona.

According to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, "Crime must be reduced by eliminating the huge profits and the soft justice which attract criminal-

-minded individuals. Avalanches of crime and terrorism cannot be tolerated in a society of free men. Either we win the war against crime or the priceless heritage which we cherish will be destroyed. Full justice is needed -- stern justice. We need justice which keeps the balance true and affords the law-abiding public an even break. We need justice which deals swiftly and surely with the criminal, convincing justice which means a quick arrest, prompt prosecution, and substantial punishment of the guilty lawbreaker."

Spanish Trails Council elects board members

Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council held its annual delegate meeting recently at St. Christopher's Church in West Covina. Delegates to the Council included neighborhood delegates, service team chairman, board of directors, nominating committee, board committee delegates, and council trainers.

Agenda items included the election of board members and nominating committee members; annual report of board committees; president's report; recognition of adult volunteers; and the installation of board members.

Mrs. Thomas Gillum, West Covina, was in charge of making arrangements for the meeting.

The following took part in the dramatic sketch: Mel Stiles, Mrs. Norman Wellington, Mrs. Kevin Shaw, Mrs. James R. Linton, Mrs. Donald Sheffer, Mrs. Jack Sawyer, Mrs. Cory Aylor, Mrs. Charles Heckel, Mrs. Robert Kull, and Senior Scout Connie Williams.

A plaque was presented to Herschel Glenn of Upland for "legal services beyond the call of duty."

An evening to remember:

It happens at the Stuft Shirt.

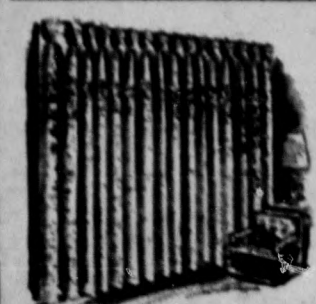

People tell us that an evening at the Stuft Shirt is something special. That there's nothing quite like our food or the way it's served. Like Tenderloin of Beef a L'oscar... a filet mignon steak sauteed in butter and topped with crab legs, asparagus spears and sauce Bearnaise. Or any of the other popular entrees you like so much. Cocktails, too, of course. And there's music for dancing. Everything you could want for an unforgettable evening. And all under one roof.

DFG recommends '68 hunt rules

California's first wild turkey hunt was proposed by the Department of Fish and Game in the DFG's recommendations for 1968-69 hunting seasons.

The Department's recommendations will be submitted to the Fish and Game Commission at a meeting in Sacramento April 5, when the commission also will accept recommendations from sportsmen's groups and the general public.

The general late deer season is proposed for Sept. 21-Nov. 10, the same as in the past two seasons except for adjustments to provide Saturday openers. The early season would be Aug. 3-Sept. 22; the late northern or northwestern season Sept. 21-Oct. 27; and the northeastern season Sept. 21-Oct. 13.

The limit for the special additional mountain quail season would be increased this year from six to 10 birds per day, to make it the same as the aggregate limit during the regular quail season. The daily bag and possession limit on red-legged partridge or chukar would be boosted from four to five. DFG field personnel say both species are in good supply and could easily sustain the proposed increases.

A handgun proposal would allow the use of .357 magnum, .41 magnum or .44 magnum handguns to take bears or wild pigs.

The one-day turkey hunt would be held in all of San Luis Obispo County on the opening day of the pheasant season, Nov. 23, and the season bag and possession limit would be one turkey of either sex. Only shotguns would be allowed, and shooting hours would be one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

The DFG said it believed a short experimental season would provide an additional species for California's hunters without affecting the turkey resource. Most of the hunting would be on private lands, where the landowner's permission would be required for access.

Turkeys were stocked in San Luis Obispo County prior to the 1940s, and the total population of birds is now approximately 5,000. Turkeys have also been stocked in other areas of the state as part of a continuing program, but this is the only area where a huntable population has so far become established, DFG stated. Most of the stocking has been in private land, as in San Luis Obispo County, because nearly all the most suitable habitat for turkeys is on such lands, the Department noted.

Here is a rundown of the DFG's proposals by species: DEER—Early season Aug. 3-Sept. 22, limit two bucks forked horn or better. The area would be unchanged from recent years, and would include most coastal counties and western portions of valley counties. Late season Sept. 21-Nov. 10, limit one buck forked horn or better. The season generally would cover the Sierra and foothill counties and would include most of Los Angeles and San Diego counties. The northeastern season would be Sept. 21-Oct. 13, limit one buck three points or better. The northeastern area includes Modoc, most of Lassen and eastern Shasta, and Siskiyou counties. Late northern season Sept. 21-Oct. 27, limit two bucks forked horn or better in most of the area, which includes Del Norte, most of Humboldt, western Siskiyou, Shasta, Tehama and Glenn, and Trinity counties. The limit would be one buck, forked horn or better, in those portions of Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Butte and Plumas counties lying southerly of State Highway 44 and east of U.S. 99 and 99W.

ARCHERY DEER—Early season July 13-28, limit two bucks forked horn or better; late season Aug. 31-Sept. 15 with limits the same as for rifle seasons in the same areas.

BEAR—Sept. 21-Jan. 5, 1969; limit two bears per season.

ARCHERY BEAR—Aug. 31-Sept. 15; limit two bears per year whether taken by rifle or bow and arrow.

WILD PIGS—Sept. 28-March 30, 1969 in Monterey County; balance of state open all year. Limit in Monterey County one pig per day, one in possession; no limit in balance of state.

PHEASANTS—Nov. 23-Dec. 8 with limit of two males per day, 10 per season in general season area; Nov. 23-Jan. 1, 1969 in Imperial and eastern Riverside county with limit of two pheasants of either sex per day, 10 per season. Either sex shooting would again be allowed in all of Southern California, but Kern County would be shifted from the either-sex area to the area in which only males may be taken.

ARCHERY PHEASANTS—General season Dec. 14, 15, 21, and 22, Imperial and eastern Riverside County Jan. 4, 5, 11, and 12, 1969.

QUAIL—Nov. 2-Jan. 1, 1969 for valley, mountain, and desert quail; limit 10 per day in the aggregate of species. Special additional mountain quail season Sept. 21-Nov. 1 with a limit of 10 mountain quail per day in Butte, Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Plumas, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Tehama, and Trinity counties and those portions of Nevada, Placer, and El Dorado counties lying easterly of the Sierra Nevada crest; those portions of Fresno, Madera, Mariposa, and Tuolumne counties lying within the boundaries of national forests; and that portion of Tulare County lying east of the western boundary of Sequia National Forest; those portions of Modoc and Lassen counties lying westerly of Highway 395. Alpine County has been deleted and Mendocino County added. Mountain quail may be taken in the remainder of the state only during the regular quail season.

RED-LEGGED PARTRIDGES (CHUKAR)—Season Nov. 2-Jan. 1, 1969; bag and possession limit five birds per day, five in possession. Tehama County would be added to the area open to chukar hunting.

Property statements required

Many California taxpayers mistakenly believe that they do not have to file property statements this year because of a 1967 change in the law, the State Board of Equalization reports.

The change required that persons with taxable personal property costing $30,000 or more (other than household furnishings) must file a property statement with the assessor. However, it left standing the right of an assessor to require a statement from any other taxpayer.

Assessors told the Board that taxpayers are confused by the change, believing the assessor errs in requesting the information.

"An assessor has only two ways of determining property value for the tax roll," the Board said. "Either he makes a field inspection, or he requires that the property owner list his tangible property on a form, sign the form, and return it to the assessor."

Property owners' statements are subject to an assessor's audit. Assets improperly reported can be entered on the tax roll as "escaped assessments" which also may be subject to penalties in addition.

"The law is clear," the Board said. "Any person who has less than $30,000 in taxable personal property must file a property statement within a specified period if the assessor so requests."

The law also permits the assessor to set the date for the statement's return, although it cannot be before April 1 nor later than the last Monday in May.

UE offers spring fever cure

University of California Extension has a suggestion for spring fever—a course on the art of embroidery, fencing, or prints for the collector.

These are among 18 programs Extension is offering during daytime hours starting the second week in April. They meet in Riverside, San Bernardino, Redlands, Bloomington and Fontana.

There's short programs on regional architecture of the world and alternatives to divorce; field trips on the language of nature and identification of local birds; and a workshop on writing novels for young people.

Special this spring is a program on "The Next Step:

Choice and Challenge" which combines lectures, discussion and a group of tests to help women who are seeking a new interest or a new field to make realistic plans toward an attainable goal. The Friday morning program meets at the Inland Center.

For information about a speech workshop, group vocational counseling, or a lecture series by UCR faculty members on their current research in the humanities, write University of California Extension, Riverside, or phone 787-4105 for a brochure of daytime programs.

Visitors are welcome to attend the first meetings of these programs.

State PTA board of managers hears special drug reports

"There has not been adequate medical and scientific research to determine how harmful or harmless marijuana actually is, or what effects its use may have. It is time for a thorough study to be made. The dearth of facts has led adults to hysterical preaching, using exaggerations and scare tactics rather than teaching with certainty and assurance. Illegality has emerged as the only valid argument to prevent a child's starting to use marijuana," states the report of the special committee of the State Board of Managers of the California PTA, released recently.

The committee was authorized to inquire, as laymen, into the present law and its application regarding possession, use, sale, and transportation of marijuana; statewide incidence and trends of arrests; the medical and social significance of its use; and what instruction is given in the public schools regarding it. In order to develop factual information and an informed opinion for use in determining CCPT's stand on legislation.

As a result of the study, the State Board of Managers, at their recent meeting in Los Angeles, voted to support bills before the legislature to initiate a research program into the medical and social effects of marijuana use and to allow judges discretion to assign either a felony or a misdemeanor status for first-offense marijuana convictions.

"The seriousness of a felony conviction in many cases may be unwarranted," said Mrs. Lennart R. Swenson of South Pasadena, chairman of the committee. "The court should have the flexibility required to handle each case on its merits." In speaking of the report, CCPT President, Mrs. Laurence B. Martin of Los Angeles said, "The committee's study points up the complexity of the problem. Drug abuse is only a symptom of much larger problems of our society.

Prevention requires that we meet an individual's need before he reaches that stage of desperation. As we so often find in our work in the community, there is a vital need for protective services for children and their families. The State Board of Managers of the California PTA is supporting legislation to provide for these services."

Members of the committee signing the report were the following: Mrs. Lennart R. Swenson of South Pasadena, director of Public Welfare; Mrs. Robert T. Adams of Lafayette, director of Organization; Mrs. Everett Barr of Yreka, director of Education; Mr. Dean Cayot of Alhambra, Juvenile Protection chairman; Mrs. Malcolm Finley of San Rafael, Mental Health chairman; Mrs. Robert Kleinham-

Science Fair awards at Alta Loma High

Keith Taylor, Alta Loma High School Science Club president, announced that his club has just concluded sponsoring the Third Annual Inter-Junior High School Science and Math Fair, held at Alta Loma High School.

The club's purpose in sponsoring this annual event is three-fold: 1) to raise the science programs of the surrounding schools to a higher level; 2) to initiate interest in the junior high so that they can take an active part in the high school science programs; and 3) to make the community aware of the interest and abilities of the students in math and science fields.

This year Taylor stated that three junior high schools participated: Cucamonga, Etiwanda and Los Amigos. A total of 18 projects were submitted in the five areas of math and logic, physics and physical science, earth and space, chemistry, and biology. One project tested the intelligence of mice by running them through a maze. Another was a study of grass growth in different soils. Others concerned optical illusions, sound waves, and probability.

Award winners for this year's Fair are: first place, Robert Smith and Jim Moore of Los Amigos, with a water purification plant. Second place, Kathy Lasswell of Etiwanda with a transformation act. Third place, Wayne Evans of Cucamonga with a project on sound waves. Honorable mention: David Dewees of Cucamonga in Biology; Kathryn Clayton of Cucamonga in Physical Science; Jim Geary of Etiwanda in Math; Jackie Stawicki of Etiwanda in Chemistry; Robert Smith and Jim Moore of Los Amigos in Earth and Space.

The projects were judged on creative ability, scientific thought, thoroughness, skill, clarity, and dramatic value. First, Second and Third Place winners will receive plaques. The school of the first-place winner, Los Amigos, will keep the traveling plaque for one year. Cucamonga won in 1966, while Etiwanda kept the plaque during 1967.

mer of Albany, director of Health; Mrs. Richard D. Macy of Whittier, Legislation-Education chairman; Mrs. R. J. Mathelson of Hayward, Legislation-Health and Public Welfare chairman; and Mrs. S.O. Thorlaksson, Jr., director of Parent and Family Life Education.

Science Fair awards at Alta Loma High

In conjunction with the Junior High Science Fair, the Science Club sponsored an Intramural Science Fair for ninth grade students attending Alta Loma High School. These projects were judged for the same qualities as the junior high projects. The winners were:

first place: Dawna Douglas with a fluid model of magnetic fields; second place: Lois Tooman with a project on caffeine; third place: Thomas Bates with a project on crystals. Honorable mention went to Pat Jacobsen, Robin Cheddie and Don Jackson. The Science Club presented each winner with ribbons. Science Club Advisor, Bill Kimmich, expressed his appreciation for the science teachers in the junior high schools who, each year, encourage their students to participate.

More sturgeon for Colorado

The Department of Fish and Game has scheduled its second transplant of white sturgeon, North America's largest freshwater game fish, into the Colorado River for March 28.

A total of 36 of the fish, three to six feet in length and up to 90 pounds in weight will be released below Parker Dam in San Bernardino County and below Palo Verde Dam in Riverside County.

The first introduction of sturgeon into the Colorado was made a year ago when the DFG released 39 into Lake Havasu, San Bernardino County.

All of the fish were collected in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta where they grow to over 1,000 pounds in weight. They are being tried in the Colorado River in the hope they will thrive, reproduce and establish a self-sustaining trophy fishery.

To protect the experimental plantings, both California and Arizona now prohibit the take of sturgeon from the Colorado River. The DFG said female sturgeon are believed to mature at 15 to 20 years when they are four to six feet long and weigh 50 to 75 pounds.

Mrs. Miller has day in highest U.S. court

By County News Service
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Lucille Miller had her day in the nation's highest court Tuesday.

Hitting hard on what he termed the "two fold, intentional misconduct" of the prosecution, famed Boston attorney F. Lee Bailey argued the case for 26 minutes before the Supreme Court, in his effort to win a new trial for the former Alta Loma housewife.

The appeal to the Supreme Court was based on the "planting" of a sheriff's matron, Peggy Fisk in Mrs. Miller's cell prior to her trial, in which she was charged with the murder of her husband in 1964.

This was intentional misconduct by the sheriff's office, Bailey said. The informant urged Mrs. Miller to "place her faith in Sheriff (Frank) Bland," and attempted to undermine her faith in her own attorneys, he contended.

It was also intentional misconduct, Bailey said, when the district attorney knowingly used in the trial "tainted" evidence secured by the informant.

Deputy California Attorney General Phillip C. Griffin argued the case for the state, contending that the testimony of Miss Fisk was not materially damaging to Mrs. Miller. Chief Justice Earl Warren questioned Griffin in detail about a letter he had written to the Supreme Court in which he condemned the conduct of the sheriff in placing Miss Fisk in the cell.

"I have not heard any condemnation in court today," Justice Warren said. "Do you condone this type of thing or do you condemn it?"

Griffin answered that he did not condemn the original action by the sheriff in placing Miss Fisk in the cell, when she was instructed merely to listen and was told not to attempt to elicit statements from Mrs. Miller.

Griffin said he did condemn the instructions she later received, when she actively attempted to lead Mrs. Miller into discussing the case.

Bailey pointed out to the court that Miss Fisk was placed in the cell on Oct. 9, 1964, in the guise of a woman charged with a felony. She remained there until Oct. 15.

In his four-minute rebuttal to Griffin, Bailey rapidly fired away at what he said were misstatements of the evidence by Griffin.

The justices questioned both attorneys repeatedly, with Justice Thurgood Marshall appearing to be the most concerned by the use of an informer in the case.

Edward P. Foley, Mrs. Miller's trial attorney, was present, although Bailey handled the entire presentation.

Griffin said he did condemn the instructions she later received, when she actively attempted to lead Mrs. Miller into discussing the case.

Bailey pointed out to the court that Miss Fisk was placed in the cell on Oct. 9, 1964, in the guise of a woman charged with a felony. She remained there until Oct. 15.

PAINT, RED -- OR ELSE! -- Palm Springs' favorite clown, Red Skelton, takes time from his hobby of painting clowns, to ham-it-up with a posse from the Palm Springs Desert Circus. The annual 10-day fun festival, April 19 thru 28, will honor Old Mexico and the 1968 Olympics. Proceeds from the star-filled activity will go to the United Fund in this Southern California desert resort community.

Plenty To Do And See In Southland

A jumping frog championships, a hot air balloon race off a mountain top and a kayak derby down a Sierra rapids are colorful events in the Southland during April, according to the calendar issued by the Visitors Council today.

Some 500 frogs will compete in the Southern California jump-off at Del Mar on April 28 to determine who goes to the Jumping Frog Jubilee at Angeles Camp. A jump is three hops; one winner did 7 feet 10 inches. There will be a Best Dressed Frog contest.

Amateur canoe and kayak enthusiasts will race April 20 and 21 down the rapids of the Kern River which rises high up on Mt. Whitney, and tumbles down the slope of the southern Sierra to the central valley at Bakersfield.

A world-famous orchid nursery, Stewart's at 86-06 E. Las Tunas Drive in San Gabriel, will open its greenhouse with thousands of blossoms in beautiful peak bloom, during its Orchid Festival April 25 and 28.

It's also peak blooming time at the famous Pageant of Roses Garden at Rose Hills Park in Whittier. More than 4000 plants in over 400 varieties are arranged in graceful tiers. There are rare Weeping Tree roses and others in freak tints of greenish and lavender.

FLOWER FESTIVAL
For the 36th year little Hi Vista in Antelope Valley holds its Spring Wildflower Festival on April 20 and 21. Hundreds of wildflowers will be gathered from Los Angeles, Kern and San Bernardino county areas of the desert and classified. There will be a ham dinner Sunday.

The famous Ramona Outdoor Play will be held on weekends of April 27-28, May 4-5 and 11-12.

This is the dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's novel of the early California girl and her Indian husband.

ARCADIA SHOW
The annual Spring Flower Show and Art Festival will be held at the Arboretum at Arcadia April 12 to 14 a display of cut flowers, bonsai, begonias, ferns, azaleas, roses, potted plants and cacti.

Some 7000 bleacher seats will be set up outside the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium for the motion picture "Oscar" awards the night of April 18. Dozens of red-coated attendants will be greeting the limousines of the stars.

The 5th annual United States Road Racing Championships will be held over the 2.6 mile road course of the Riverside International Raceway April 27 and 28. Probably the best cars and drivers in the event's history will compete, including Mark Donohue, Skip Scott, Jerry Titus, Lothar Motschenbacher, Jerry Grant, Bill Eves, John Cannon, and Chuck Carson. There will also be races in 22 classifications of amateur sports cars and drivers.

For The Sewing Set

A portable two-tray sewing chest for young moderns comes in new swinging colors—avocado green, antique gold, azalea pink and bluebell—to blend with sewing room, bedroom or family room decor. It is also available in moiré crystal and tortoiseshell at national variety department store chains.

The tray compartments were scientifically planned to provide a place for every important sewing accessory. The top tray has spindles for 25 spools of thread. Labels molded into the sturdy plastic show how to organize buttons, bobbins, tape measure and scissors. The rounded bottom of the pin section makes it easy to slide out pins and needles.

The second tray has movable partitions to accommodate slide fasteners, snaps and bias tape. The bottom of the straight-sided chest allows ample room for pattern, fabric or knitting yarns. The recessed handle folds away for storage.

Forty million home sewers, including ten million teenagers, have put home sewing on the upswing. New pattern sizing and bonded fabrics make sewing and fitting easier and faster. High school student enrolled in sewing courses and mothers in adult education will find this Will-hold chest convenient for carrying projects to and from class.

Homemakers will discover dozens of uses for it besides sewing—baby needs, small toys, art needlework, crafts, beach supplies and for overnight. That is, if father doesn't get it first for fishing tackle or workshop. This versatile chest is manufactured by Hugh H. Wilson Company, Sunbury, Pa.

Tips on Care Of Cucumbers

Cucumbers for slicing should be firm, fresh, bright, well-shaped, of good medium to dark green color. Cucumbers usually are held in storage for only short periods and cannot be expected to keep much over 10 days from picking time. Most favorable storage temperature range seems to be 45 to 50 degrees. At this season, they must be chosen with special care for crisp goodness.

Tired Bread? Dress It Up For Pudding

Nostalgia for the past can be recaptured, at least in part, with this recipe for Chocolate Nut Bread Pudding which will delight youngsters as much today as it did those of yesteryears. A wonderful way to use up those slices of tired bread which are still too good to throw away. The recipe makes eight servings.

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 3 cups milk
- 3 cups 1/2-inch bread cubes
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Grate chocolate or cut into small pieces; add to milk and beat in double boiler over boiling water or over a very low heat. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary beater until

To Hear Testimony On Phone Rate Hike In Covina, Apr. 4

LOS ANGELES - Testimony from General Telephone subscribers in the Covina-Pomona area will be solicited by the California Public Utilities Commission Thursday and Friday, April 4 and 5, on the application of General Telephone for a $46 million annual rate increase and on the quality of the phone company's service.

The April 4 public hearing will be held in the Covina City Hall Council Chambers, 125 East College Street, and the hearing April 5 will be in Palomares Auditorium, North Orange Grove and Arrow Highway, Pomona. Proceedings both days will begin at 10 a.m. Commissioner Fred P. Morrissey or Examiner Robert Barnett will preside.

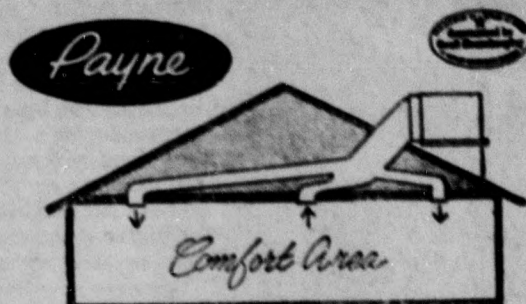

In its application to the Commission, General Telephone seeks rates which would raise the basic monthly charge for one-party residential service in the Covina Exchange from $5.10 to $6.10, and in the Pomona Exchange from $4.95 to $5.95. Bills for residential two-party service would climb from $3.95 to $5.30 in the Covina Exchange. Two-party service not now available in the Pomona Exchange would be provided at a charge of $5.15.

Proposed rates for one-party business service are $15.25 in the Covina Exchange (present rate is $12.20) and $11.90 in the Pomona Exchange (presently $8.90).

AUTO CLUB MOTORLOG

Southern California Is A Land Of Plenty-Including Turtle Racing!

Would you dare to believe that racing—the perennial “Sport of Kings”—could slow down from the breakneck pace of a royal thoroughbred to the patient pedestrian crawl of a turtle? If you have any doubts about the possibility or probability of such an unheard-of happening, the Automobile Club of Southern California advises that you not place any bets to back up your doubts. You could very well lose your shirt, as well as the respect of Indeed, Southern California has some of the world's most unusual and fascinating forms of outdoor recreation. And the small community of Joshua Tree (along with its Turtle Race Association) manages to stage one of the unique ones every Spring.

This year during May 4-5, San Bernardino County's Joshua Tree will celebrate the 23rd Annual Turtle Races with more fun, variety and gusto than ever before. The racing grounds are located only a few blocks north of the Twentynine Palms Highway just off Sunburst Circle.

Here's what takes place:

You enter a turtle (if you own one or happen to find one) which is at least 8" long—a rule imposed by the State Fish and Game Commission, which is very careful to see that the little animals are well treated and are given plenty of water and lettuce, their favorite delicacy. Water color paints are used to place numbers on the turtles' shells (oil paints clog pores which can result in the creature's demise). At any of the several races held each of the two days, a set number of turtles is placed in a circled enclosure; at a given signal the “gates are open” and the rather slow scramble starts. The first animal to reach an outer chalk ring on the field is proclaimed the winner. Nominal prizes are presented to the champion of each heat.

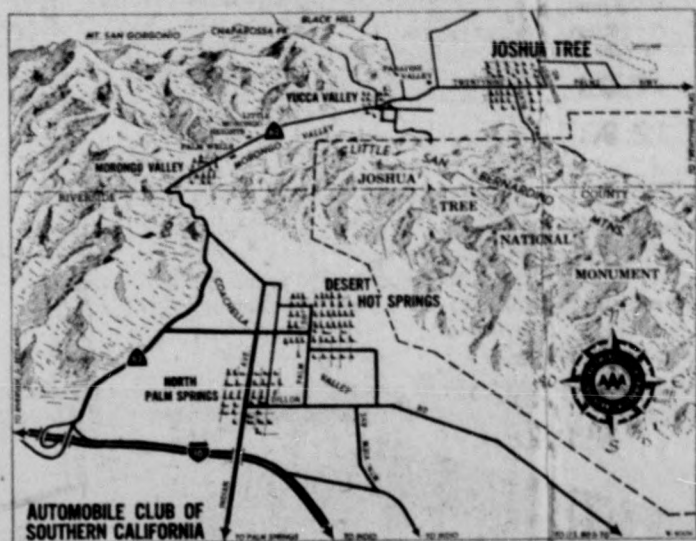

No turtles, however, are to be taken from the desert. After the races they must be returned to where they were found and released.

Adjacent to the racing area are many merchandise booths, souvenir shops and refreshment stands. After the races the Hi Desert Playhouse Guild presents its annual “Knockouts” show in the Cabaret Theater. Popcorn and refreshments are served to viewers seated at candlelit tables.

Of course, for additional

AND THERE THEY GO! Yes, the slow but sure creatures are off and running again this year at Joshua Tree's 23rd Annual Turtle Races May 4-5. Go, guys go!

family enjoyment there is the Joshua Tree National Monument. This high desert park is exceptionally beautiful this time of year. You may enter the park at the Visitor Center in nearby Twentynine Palms and feast your eyes on the spectacular Joshua Trees—also known as “lilies of the desert.” April and May quite often bring a goodly display of the Joshua's cream-white blossoms as well as a varicolored splash of wildflowers. Campground information may be obtained at the Visitor Center.

If you haven't ever seen a turtle race (and chances are good that you haven't!), you and your family might very well enjoy the wholesome delights of Joshua Tree's event the first weekend in May. At any rate, the lovely destination is worth the drive—even if your favorite finishes last.

Killer Of 20 Could Have Kept License

“If the drunk driver who drove on the wrong side of the freeway causing a crash which killed twenty bus passengers last week had survived the accident, he might well have retained his drivers license through the kindness of some judge,” said Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, 57th District. “For, that same week, a Los Angeles judge restored a drivers license on the grounds that the woman was too intoxicated to decide whether or not to take the test. A few days before that episode, a judge here in Sacramento threw out a drunk driving charge against an individual with a previous record of drunk driving because the Deputy District Attorney had signed the complaint on the wrong line.

“Many legislators, myself included, fought hard to get the ‘implied consent’ law on the books. Now we are faced with some judges who apparently believe a person has a constitutional right to drive a car on California's highways while drunk.

“This attitude by some of the judiciary will increase the suffering and death of innocent people.”

Testing Yeast

When you bake bread remember yeast is a living plant. Too much heat can kill its action; not enough heat can slow down its action. For best results, dissolve the yeast packet from Hot Roll Mix in warm (not hot) water. To test the temperature of the water, drop a little water on the inside of your wrist. Warm—not hot—water feels comfortably warm.

Cleaning Agent

When dacron or nylon sweaters have stains at the collars and cuffs, rub soapless shampoo into the fabric and rinse well. The shampoo will cut the oil and grease, leaving the sweater clean.

Search for Lint

When doing laundry, always search pockets for possible lint makers. It's discouraging to let just one tissue slip by and cover an entire load of clothes with lint.

Cooling Foods

One of the best ways to keep foods cool on a picnic is to pack them in a prechilled cooler. Put ice in the cooler several hours before you pack for the picnic. The ice will keep longer and food will stay cool.

Repotting Plants

While repotting begonias, ferns and other house plants use a good soil mixture. Also remove all seed pods from annuals to prolong their blooming period.

SGV Data System Receives Grant

Don Rinaldi, Covina city councilman and president of the San Gabriel Valley Municipal Data System (MDS) announced that a grant of $210,000 from the Carnegie Corporation for the development of a joint time-shared computer center to serve in the San Gabriel Valley and Pomona area has been approved.

Carnegie Corporation, the education foundation, indicated the grant is conditioned upon sufficient funds being allocated by the member cities to staff the project and provide operating expenses during the two and one-half year development period. The MDS cities presently include Arcadia, Claremont, Covina, Monrovia, Montclair, Monterey Park, Ontario, Pomona and San Dimas. At least four additional cities are expected to join the joint powers agency by July 1, 1968.

“It is especially significant that through this system, the MDS cities will be able to share planning and management data to the mutual benefit of all,” Rinaldi stated. The system as conceived by the Los Angeles consulting firm of Isaacs-Dobbs Systems, Inc., would ultimately provide a computer-connected typewriter in each city. This terminal would be used for entry and retrieval of information on finances, police statistics, utility services, land use planning and overall city management. Rinaldi stressed the importance of such information in the effective administration and policy determination for a municipality.

Gifford Miller, City Manager of Monrovia and Chairman of the MDS Technical Committee, indicated that Carnegie's action was the culmination of a long term cooperative effort. Early in 1966, the San Gabriel Valley City Managers Association, at the suggestion of Sam Norris, Assistant City Manager of Monterey Park, formed an Electronic Data Processing Committee. The Managers Association contracted with Isaacs-Dobbs Systems, Inc., in August 1966 to explore the feasibility of sharing a joint computer center. The recommendations of consultant Herbert H. Isaacs were presented in February 1967. These were reviewed by the individual cities and MDS, a joint power agency, was formed in September 1967. Negotiations with Carnegie have been under way since that time.

A budget committee headed by Leonard Soper, Montclair Councilman and Vice-President of MDS, has prepared a detailed budget of $339,300 for the cities' share of the costs during the two and one-half year development period. This budget is being submitted to the city councils for their approval. It is planned that the first year costs would be only $32,000 to be shared by all cities according to a formula based on population and other factors. At the end of that time, the cities would then be in a position to commit funds for the remainder of the development period.

The Carnegie Corporation grant would provide $60,000 in the first year, the additional $150,000 would be made available, providing the first year program is satisfactory and both the cities and Carnegie Corporation agree to continue to support the project.

The MDS Board includes a councilman from each member city. In addition to Rinaldi and Soper, the board members include: C. Robert Arth, Arcadia; Martin S. Groethe, Claremont; Karl M. Thompson, Monrovia; Gershon L. Lewis, Monterey Park; San Crowe, Ontario; Fred Livermore, Pomona; and Lloyd Salisbury, San Dimas.

Big, Bold And Showy

Indoor-outdoor plants are a rarity in most parts of the United States, but in California we have several. These are big, bold and showy, tropical looking specimens such as the philodendron which serve the gardener both outside in the patio and inside under a lanai roof.

Philodendrons fall into one of two distinct classes—those with a vining nature and those with arborescent habit. The latter concern us here for the climbing members of the family are for indoor use only. Of this self-supporting group there are also two types—those with entire leaves and those with split leaves, with the latter showing the greater tolerance for sunlight and therefore of greater use outdoors, according to the California Association of Nurserymen.

The two most widely planted and most durable under indoor-outdoor conditions are the split leaf philodendron and Philodendron bipinnatifidum a hybrid with a more refined look than the former. Both have huge, showy leaves up to three feet in length that lend a tropical touch to any setting. There are many other varieties in this family, enough to keep a hobbyist happy for a long time.

In winter areas of the state, the philodendron-like Monstera vine can also be grown outdoors. This striking beauty looks for all the world like split leaf philodendron except for its vining habit and calla-like flower.

More widely adapted and just as showy is the aralia, or fatsia as some prefer to call it. This glossy leaved beauty does equally well in the ground or in a large container. It thrives on a minimum of light, but tolerates some sun, the amount depending on whether you garden inland or along the coast.

And closely akin to the above is the rice paper plant, called fatsia also by some. Its habit is more arborescent, its leaves a lighter non-glossy green. Rice paper plant tolerates more sun than aralia.

Violet Show Scheduled At Redlands

The Town and Country African Violet Society will hold an African Violet Show, "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" at Cope Junior High School, 1100 West Cypress avenue, Redlands, on April 9 and 10.

It will be Tuesday, April 9, 1 p.m. to 8 p.m., and Wednesday, April 10, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The showing will include African Violet specimen plants, both old and new varieties, as well as African Violets in arrangements. Companion plants, Episcias, Gloxinias and Gesneriads will also be shown in the exhibition.

The show will be judged by 6 accredited judges. There will also be a snack bar, plant sale, supplies and an opportunity table.

Watering Tool

Convert a meat baster into a watering tool for small plants such as African violets which have sensitive leaves. A baster works on wall planters, too, to prevent splashing paint or wall covering.

Dress Salads For Spring

Casseroles, salads and other dishes will be in the mood for spring, wearing green garnishes. Consider green pepper sticks, rings or cut-out designs. Then there are cucumber slices or sticks; pickles that are whole, sliced or chopped. Watercress and parsley in sprigs are sprightly. An especially attractive garnish for fish in any form is lemon wedges with sprinkle of finely chopped parsley or chives.

A Spicy Treat For Any Meal

Blend softened cream cheese with a little mayonnaise and lemon or lime juice; flavor with cinnamon. Fold in sliced bananas, roasted diced almonds and toasted shredded coconut. Heap onto lettuce-lined toast.

Roll Up Green Beans and Fish

Place drained whole green beans and dollops of bottled tartar sauce on fillets of sole; down in baking dish. Pour a little tomato sauce over and bake, covered, in moderate oven until fish flakes easily with fork.

DIETER'S SPLURGE

Waistline watchers frequently tire of low calorie fare and splurge with a slice of gooey chocolate cake or a plateful of pasta.

After such luscious interludes, it takes longer to reach the pound goal and it's hard to return to plain food.

Succulent chicken with grapefruit is a treat to the palate yet kind to the waistline.

CHICKEN HURRAH

About 270 calories per serving

1 (3½-pound) broiler-fryer chicken, quartered or cut in pieces
½ cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
3 cups TEAM Flakes, crushed or coarsely rolled (about 1½ cups crumbs)

Dip chicken in evaporated milk combined with salt and pepper. Roll in crushed TEAM Flakes to coat evenly. Arrange in single layer, skin side up, on lightly greased or foil lined cookie sheet. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour or until tender. Makes 4 (¼ chicken) servings.

SPICED GRAPEFRUIT

About 176 calories per serving

2 (1-pound) cans artificially sweetened grapefruit sections
1½ tablespoons light brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cloves

Drain grapefruit; reserve juice. Place grapefruit in a bowl. Bring juice to a boil in a small saucepan. Stir in remaining ingredients. Boil 15 to 20 minutes or until juice is reduced to ½ cup. Pour over grapefruit. Cover and refrigerate. Serve cold. Makes 5 (½ cup) servings.

Just One Shirt

After nine years of Fidel Castro's rule, Cuban men are permitted to buy only one shirt and one pair of trousers a year, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Golden Eagle Park Passes To Recreation Areas On Sale

U.S. Forest Ranger Stations throughout the Angeles National Forest begin offering for sale the $7.00 Federal Recreation Permit for 1968, more popularly known as the "Golden Eagle Pass."

As a public service for the second year, Forest Rangers will sell the permit at the 23rd annual Los Angeles Sportsman's Show, March 29 through April 7, at the Pan Pacific Auditorium.

Visitors to the show may purchase the yearly permit at the Forestry Booth in the center of the auditorium.

Angeles Forest Supervisor William T. Dresser said the "Golden Eagle Pass" can be purchased at the Forest Service L. A. headquarters office in Pasadena at 1015 North Lake Avenue. Permits can be obtained by mail through the headquarters office by mailing a check make out to "U.S.D.A.-Forest Service" for the seven dollar fee.

However, cashiers checks or money orders are preferable. The yearly Recreation Permit allows the purchaser and all in his car entrance to National Parks throughout the nation and use of campground and picnic areas in National Forests. The permit runs from April 1, 1968 to March 31, 1969.

Supervisor Dresser said the permit system was established by Congress in 1965 as the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act. Funds from the sale of the Golden Eagle Pass are used by the states for outdoor recreation planning, development, and acquisition by federal agencies, such as the U.S. Forest Service and National Park Service, of much-needed recreation areas.

Without the annual permit, daily fees are charged of $1.00 per car per day in Parks and Forests. In a few special areas, charges are $2.00 per car per day without the recreation permit.

As a public service for the second year, Forest Rangers will sell the permit at the 23rd annual Los Angeles Sportsman's Show, March 29 through April 7, at the Pan Pacific Auditorium.

Visitors to the show may purchase the yearly permit at the Forestry Booth in the center of the auditorium.

Beef and Rice Given Flavor By Molasses

Little Leaguers, their fathers and the women of the family will give three cheers for this barbecued beef and rice skillet main dish. Hearty, simple and savory, ground beef is simmered along with rice, tomatoes, onion and green pepper. Distinctive flavor is added by unsulphured molasses and prepared mustard. Six servings; enough for two, maybe three, growing boys.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt, divided
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 cup uncooked rice

Melt butter in large skillet; add onion and green pepper and cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add ground beef and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Brown beef, breaking up into pieces with a fork.

While beef is browning, combine unsulphured molasses and prepared mustard. Add to beef mixture with tomatoes and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gradually add rice. Cover; reduce heat and simmer 25 to 30 minutes, or until rice is tender.

Cosmetic Cape

When a plastic raincoat becomes too shabby for wear, cut it to waist length, shorten the sleeves and use it as a cosmetic cape while you shampoo your hair, apply make-up or do any chore which requires a bit of protection. Then keep it clean by wiping it with a sudsy sponge.

To Conduct Series For Expectant Parents

The Los Angeles County Health Department will conduct a series of 6 expectant parents' classes for about-to-be parents, which started April 1.

"The Unborn Child—His Growth And Development," will be the topic of the first discussion when the new series convenes at 7 p.m. in the Pomona Health Center, 750 South Park avenue, Pomona.

The course is designed to provide expectant mothers and fathers, who are under the care of a private physician, with the necessary basic knowledge to properly care for the new-born baby by understanding and meeting infant needs.

Mrs. Jean Whittaker, Public Health Nurse instructor, will conduct the classes on an informal basis. The 6-week course will cover such subjects as labor, delivery and normal birth, layette, formula preparation, feeding, bathing techniques, the new-born baby, and discussions on the psychological needs of the child. The series will be augmented by movie films and demonstrations.

As a tax supported educational service of the Health Department, no fees or textbooks are required.

Prospective parents may call the Pomona Health Center, 629-4171, Bureau of Public Health Nursing for further information.

Sagebrush, a shrub found mostly in the flat plains of western North America, is also found at elevations of 6,000 feet, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Shake Mixture

If you find it difficult to mix flour and water into a smooth mixture for thickening purposes because it lumps, try this: Put water into a small jar. Add flour without stirring. Screw lid on tightly and shake vigorously.

Checking Rolls

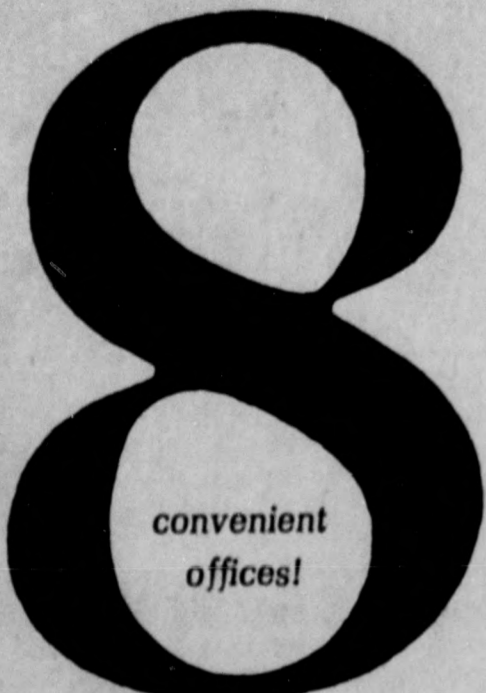

Yeast rolls are sufficiently proofed when the dough looks and feels light when touched gently. A slight impression should remain. If rolls recede slightly or collapse when pressure is applied, they have been over proofed.

Hide Blemishes

By Camouflaging

Foundation sometimes needs an assist from a specially formulated cover-up product, so why not resort to camouflage? A small amount of concealing cream will hide blemishes, scars, age lines, circles and even freckles. Be sure to choose a shade that blends with your foundation color.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by Ron White

Here's an interesting statistic from the National Basketball Association that shows how much running the average player does during games... It's been estimated that professional basketball players wear out a pair of basketball shoes every three or four games!

Ever wonder what was the longest successful shot ever made in a basketball game?... Until this season, the record was held by an Alabama player who some years ago made good on an 88-foot shot... But a new record was set earlier this season by Jerry Harkness, a player in the American Basketball Association... He heaved the ball 92 feet in a desperation shot which traveled the length of the court and went into the basket!... That stands as the longest goal in basketball history.

Here's an oddity about the National Hockey League this season... Philadelphia is in the Western Division of the league and Chicago is in the Eastern Division—but Philadelphia is more than 600 miles east of Chicago!

I bet you didn't know... that the 1968 Volvo S-44 delivers over 25 miles to the gallon, even with automatic transmission. And for safety the large windshield is built with a thin layer of plastic in its center. If broken it stretches to help take up shock.

School Aid Cuts Studied

Pomona Valley school administrators are studying the impact of a 6.7 per cent cut in state aid for the coming year.

The cut was announced this week by Casper Weinberger, state finance director, in letters to local school districts.

Weinberger said the cut was necessary to help correct a $152 million mistake in state school spending estimates contained in a 1967 bill sponsored by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

Unruh contended the cut is not necessary. Erle Simon, assistant superintendent for finances of Pomona's schools, said local administrators do not consider the cut final. He noted the State Legislature will determine the amount of school aid. He said planning for the budget year beginning July 1 is proceeding as though the cut had not been announced.

Weinberger said the Reagan Administration is asking the legislature to enact a bill that will not exceed state funds available for education, or $1,226,000,000.

Milo Thompson, business manager of the Chaffey Union High School District, said the cut "is going to make a real difference" but that the district had made no analysis of next year's budget to see where reductions will be made.

Wilfred Michael, assistant for finances in Chino, said his district had not yet received the letter and reserved comment until it did.

Relays To Draw World's Top Hurdlers

WALNUT - One of the most exciting pre-Olympics 400-meter hurdles races of the season figures to be staged at the Mt. San Antonio Relays, which will be held April 26 and 27 at Memorial Stadium on the campus of Mt. San Antonio College.

Ron Whitney of the Southern California Striders, the No. 1 ranked 400-meter hurdler star in the world, is due to run in the 10th annual track and field carnival.

Hilmer Lodge, Relays director, said the tough Strider ace would be opposed by Michigan State's great hurdler Bob Steele, who is ranked third in the United States. Steele was NCAA Champion last year.

Indications are the 10th running of the Relays will have its finest field to date.

Earlier, Lodge announced that two-time Olympic star George Young of Casa Grande, Arizona, would headline the field for the 3000-meter steep-

TOP HURDLERS
Whitney won his No. 1 ranking in face to face confrontation with the world's best 400-meter hurdlers, including No. 2 ranked John Sherwood of England and No. 3 ranked Roberto Frinolfi of Italy.

Whitney's best time for the distance last season was a blistering 49.3 when he starred in the United States' meeting with the British Commonwealth stars.

Whitney also had four other times under 50 seconds during the year, and he was defeated only once. Steele will come into the meet with impressive times of his own.

The consistent Spartan star put on a great show at Provo, Utah, last June in winning the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. His time, adjusted for the 400-meter distance, was 49.9.

During the season, only Whitney had a better time.

Steele's tremendous performances outdoors earned him a world-ranking of fifth.

On Mt. San Antonio College's speedy track the two competitors have an excellent chance of lowering the world 400-meter record, which is held by former Southern California Trojan Rex Cawley at 49.1.

3,000 COMPETE
3,000 athletes will be competing in this year's Relays, which will be staged on an invitation basis in all categories in order to further enhance the competition.

Athletes will compete in four divisions--Invitational, university - college, and high school.

In addition to the relays and flat races, there will be a full schedule of field events, a two-day decathlon for men, and a women's pentathlon for the first time.

For ticket information, contact the Mt. San Antonio Relays, College Station, Walnut, California, 91789.

New Federal Law Prohibits Discrimination For Age

"Discrimination against employees between the ages of 40 and 65 because of age will become a federal offense on June 12 of this year," Clarence T. Lundquist told the more than 100 employers attending the Merchants and Manufacturers Association March Shop Talk Series at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills today.

Lundquist, Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts, Divisions in Washington, D. C. is one of the speakers at this three meeting series examining Wage and Hour Problems.

Appearing with him is Russell Parsons, Consultant, Merchants and Manufacturers Association. Parsons stated that, "of the total violations of over 2 million dollars in this area 88% are the result of failure to pay overtime as required under the Fair Labor Standards Act."

Other sessions are scheduled this week for the Saddleback Inn, Santa Ana, and the Statler Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles.

Business, Good To Get Better

Business has been good in California during the first three months of 1968 --and it probably will get even better.

That's one of the conclusions which can be drawn from the California State Chamber of Commerce Economic Indicator for March 15.

Almost all categories analyzed by the research department of the State Chamber showed an increase over the last year and over the preceding quarter.

Employment is up in almost all categories. There is more construction under permit and personal income has shown a 7.3 percent increase. There were fewer new cars registered.

Taxpayers' Help For State Filing

Taxpayers having difficulty with their State income tax will be able to obtain advice in Pomona when the Franchise Tax Board opens a temporary office there.

An auditor from the Franchise Tax Board's staff will be located at the City Hall, 232 West Fifth Street, for the convenience of taxpayers in the area. The auditor will answer questions concerning State income tax problems, will assist taxpayers in preparing their returns, during the first quarter than there were last year, and cash farm marketings were reported off 6.2 percent.

Bank debits increased 13 percent, and savings in savings and loan organizations have gone up 9.4 percent.

Most dramatic improvements in the indicators are in building permits issued for residential and non-residential (up 46.2 percent) and residential only (99.5 percent).

The Economic Indicator is one of the services of the research department of the State Chamber, and the figures are compiled from banks, state and federal offices and private associations.

Whetmore Theatre Party Promises Big Attendance

The Whetmore Theatre Party to be held Friday, April 19, 1968, promises to be one of the most outstanding events coming up in the next several weeks.

Ozzie and Harriet, starring in "The Impossible Years", will be Senator James E. Whetmore's special guests at the champagne reception following their performance and will be one of the highlights of the evening. A galaxy of dignitaries will also join in the festivities in the Celebrity Lounge to greet the Senator and well-wishers.

Whetmore (R-35th) stated the affair is being sponsored and planned by his many friends and supporters for fun and funds to aid him in his bid for re-election to the State Senate. The legislator won his 35th Senate seat by an overwhelming majority in the 1966 election after having served two 2-year terms in the Assembly.

According to Co-chairwomen for the Theater Party, Mrs. Harold W. Nieman of Fullerton and Mrs. Ray O. Swanson of Pomona, tickets are on sale throughout the area and are available on a "first - come, first - serve" basis. They range in price from $15 each to 2 for $25; and $20 each or 2 for $35, which includes admission to the reception where champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Tickets or information may be had by calling the following:

Diamond Bar Area: Mrs. Clint Willis, LY 5-1155 (714).

Walnut: Jerome John, 964-7478 (714).

Basic Leadership Skill Workshop Scheduled

SAN DIMAS - An overnight workshop in basic leadership skills for women will be held at Cal Poly's Educational Center here April 5-6. Registration is March 30.

Leading the women's programming is Dr. Dorothy Ford, past president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and a member of President Johnson's Advisory Council on Extension and Continuing Education. Associated with her is Marcia Lasswell, Cal Poly psychology professor who is an author in the field of general psychology and widely-known for her developing of tests in that area.

Additional details can be obtained by calling the Center at 599-1231, or by writing to the director, Educational Center, Cal Poly-K-V, Voorhis Campus, San Dimas 91773.

Participants in the basic workshops will be eligible to attend an advanced workshop in "Principles and Techniques for Effective Group Interaction," May 10-11.

"These women's programs mark the increasing attention continuing education is giving business and professional women and women involved in community activities," said Educational Center Director Ken Kitch in announcing the April 5-6 workshop. "The women's workshops are also making use of the 'Overnight-

Fix Your Nose By Shaping Lips

If your nose is clearly out of proportion to the rest of your face, try these tricks: For a short nose, draw a full upper lip to minimize the space between mouth and nose. For a long nose, use a lip brush to extend and widen the corners of your upper lip. For a broad nose, shading is the answer. Experiment by blending brown shading cream down the side of your nose and nostrils.

Schabarum Files Candidacy Pledges Fight For Economy

Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum (R-49th District) March 19 filed his official Declaration of Candidacy for re-election to the California State Assembly. Schabarum stated that the special qualifications enabling him to properly represent the citizens of the 49th Assembly District included his experience and current status as State Assemblyman, his background in the business world, his long record of involvement in civic affairs, and his experience gained as Foreman of the 1965 Los Angeles County Grand Jury.

Commenting on his bid for re-election, Schabarum stated: "My first term as Assemblyman has given me the insight and knowledge to successfully combat some of our state's major problems. In particular, the areas of air pollution control, economy in government, and transportation will continue to receive my closest attention. Re-election to the Assembly will give me the extra effectiveness needed to accomplish the aims and goals desired by many of our citizens."

As a member of the Assembly Transportation and Commerce, Governmental Operations, and Industrial Relations Committees, Schabarum has been a leader in the battle to promote and establish effective and stringent air pollution controls. He has also been a leader in fighting government inefficiency and waste, and in exploring various ways in which spending can be reduced and production upgraded.

Endorsers of Assemblyman Schabarum's bid for re-election include the following individuals who have signed the Official Sponsor's Certificate:

land, Mrs. Betty J. McGee, Richard C. Hunsaker, Charles McVey; from Monrovia - Walter F. Walters, Rodger O. Ferguson, George W. Phelps, Mrs. Dorothy M. Brower, Mrs. Julia K. Hoagland; from Pomona - Clemett L. Neibel, Donald McCombs, Roy O. Day; from San Dimas - Henry E. Houston, Mrs. Sarah Staiger, Walker Downs, Lowell D. Godfrey; from West Covina - Donald J. Gleason, Mrs. Lou Ann Davis, Mrs. Bernadine R. Pedderson, Tony Kerckhoff.

Storing Breads

Wrap yeast breads in foil before storing in a well ventilated bread box.

For 'Splashers'

The six months to one-year-old baby loves to splash in water. This can become a problem at bath time when he splashes out a lot of water. Try placing his small tub inside the bathtub. There will be no more mopping up spilled water, and this also helps to acquaint baby with the big tub, so there will be no strangeness to him when you start using it regularly.

'Wendy's Whimsies' New Art Form Created By Young Teacher

POMONA - Wendy Carson, a pretty young teacher-housewife budget-squeezed like all newlyweds, took a creative approach to the problem of birthday and anniversary gifts for friends by developing a new art form now known as "Wendy's Whimsies."

The "Whimsies" are dramatizations of nursery characters and animals such as Winnie the Pooh and Hippo, done charmingly in ceramics with hand stichery on a background of colored burliap. Eighteen of the "Whimsies" are currently on display at the Inland Bank in Pomona and may be purchased at modest prices from Mrs. Carson.

Wendy is the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Betty Carson, member of the Pomona Board of Education and head of the bank's new accounts department. She teaches third year kindergarten at Summer School in the Claremont School District and lives with her husband, Robert Carson, in a newly acquired home at 1118 Hillside in Claremont.

The bank exhibit contains such child appealing titles as "I'm Just a Big Cat," "Strawberry Time," "Hippo and Friend," "The Happy Hippo," "Let's Go Fly a Kite," "Eeyore Finds His Tail," and "A Talk to the Elephant."

Wendy Carson, a pretty young teacher-housewife budget-squeezed like all newlyweds, took a creative approach to the problem of birthday and anniversary gifts for friends by developing a new art form now known as "Wendy's Whimsies."

oped the "Whimsies" as a means of giving something original to her friends when a newlywed budget made purchase of gifts for them virtually prohibitive. When she found her first whimsy was received with delight, she began making others. Now she only wishes she had time to produce more. Time," she says "is my biggest problem." The 18 Whimsies at Inland Bank represent her entire current inventory.

Utility Charges Declining In State, PUC Announces

A survey just completed by the California Public Utilities Commission discloses that utility charges for gas, electricity and telephone service in the state's ten largest cities declined substantially during the last five years, a period of generally rising costs.

Peter E. Mitchell, Commission president, announced today the survey revealed that those charges between 1962 and 1967 showed an overall reduction of 6.73 per cent. Each year, for its annual report to the Governor, the Commission compiles statistics on gas, electric and telephone rates in the 25 largest U. S. cities, including Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego. This latest survey has added seven more California cities as a basis of comparison.

The survey shows that the Bay Area cities have enjoyed the greatest reductions -- 10.3 per cent in both San Francisco and Oakland, and 9.5 per cent in San Jose.

Los Angeles residents paid 7.0 per cent less for all utilities in 1967 than in 1962. Fresno's decrease was 6.7 per cent, and Santa Ana's 6.6 per cent. Smallest rate of decline was Sacramento's at 3.5 per cent.

By comparison, similar utility charges during the same five-year period declined by 3.0 per cent in New York, and by 2.2 per cent in Chicago, substantially less than the 10.3 and 7.0 percentages of San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, even smaller than the lowest decrease of the ten largest California cities -- Sacramento's 3.5 per cent.

"The Commission and its staff continually review the earnings of the utilities under its jurisdiction," said Commissioner Mitchell, "and appropriate negotiations are initiated with utility officials to provide further reductions where operating economies so warrant."

60-Miles A Gallon On Family Bus

LOS ANGELES - Sixty miles-per-gallon in the old family bus? Sound impossible?

Not according to Bob Cahill and Bob Checkley, Chrysler engineers, who are heading up Chrysler-Plymouth's effort in the 3000-mile 1968 Mobil Economy Run, which begins April 2 at Disneyland and ends in New York City April 7.

"I don't recommend it as a daily practice," said Cahill, veteran Economy Run driver and four-time class winner in the event since 1961. "But, in an emergency, when your gas gauge is on empty and not a station in sight, it might be just the thing you need to keep the car going until a gas station is found."

And the technique certainly won't be used on the Economy Run, offered Checkley, who drove a 1967 Plymouth Valiant to overall run honors last year with a 24.57 miles-per-gallon average.

"Let's assume you're off the freeway on open highway," said Cahill, painting a verbal picture. "Your gauge is on empty and you're sweating out that next station. Immediately start cruising at 30-mile-per-hour. Turn off the ignition switch, put the car in neutral, and coast the car till it reaches 20 miles-per-hour. Start the car again with the ignition switch, put in drive and accelerate to 30 miles per hour. Put in neutral, turn off ignition, and coast to 20 again. Keep repeating this procedure until you find that gas station."

"If this technique is repeated for a long period of time," said Checkley, "there's no doubt your car--assuming it's in the popular - priced category--would be averaging 60 or more miles per gallon."

"Contrary to what most drivers believe," Cahill said, "best fuel economy in the popular-priced car is achieved in the 25 to 30 mile-per-hour range. For example, a 1968 Plymouth Valiant Six with manual transmission has the capability of 30 miles per gallon or better at 30 mph steady speed with a careful driver."

"Most economy run-entries achieve excellent mileage," Cahill said, "but the average driver could take his own comparable family car and achieve even better mileage if he really was willing to work at it."

He said greater economy mileage could be obtained in several ways: "Thirty pounds pressure in all tires is one of the easiest and simplest ways to improve mileage," Cahill pointed out. "If it's fuel economy you're after, keep optional power accessories at a minimum."

"New car break-in is very important," Cahill said. "Economy Run cars are allowed only 15,000 miles break-in time. The average owner can break in his car 3,000 or 4,000 miles and this will certainly result eventually in greater fuel savings."

SCENIC HIGHWAY - California's Interstate Route 80 in Sacramento was today named winner of the 1967 Parade Scenic Highway Award - the first urban highway in the nation to receive such acclaim. It features elevated structures which provide parking space and areas for commercial and recreational development.

Weighty Whale

It is said that the blue or sulphur-bottom whale is the largest known creature ever to inhabit the earth. At maturity, these whales reach 100 feet in length and have a weight of 136 tons.

Exemption Claim For Divorced

Divorced or separated parents planning to claim a child as a dependent on federal income tax returns should be sure to use the new guidelines now in effect P.S. Schmidt, District Director of Internal Revenue said today.

The guidelines were enacted by Congress last year and apply to 1967 returns now being filed. The guidelines cover situations where one parent has custody of the child and the other contributes to the child's support.

Schmidt said the new guidelines should help eliminate what has been a major cause of tax controversy. Tax law permits only the taxpayer who provides more than half the support of another person to claim the dependency exemption. However, divorced or separated parents frequently claim the same child as dependent, Mr. Schmidt said.

The new rules provide that the parents with custody of the child for the greater part of the year is generally entitled to the deduction. There are, however, exceptions to this rule, depending on the terms of the decree and amount contributed to the child's support by the parent who does not have custody.

The new rules do not apply if someone other than the parents provides over half the child's support for the year.

Bathing Idea Still Valid

In 1897, before indoor plumbing and bathrooms were taken for granted, a book called "Search Lights on Health" was published. It contained instructions covering most human relationships, including this gem on bathing: "No person should think for a moment that they can be popular in society without regular bathing." This advice is still valid in 1968.

Ham for Easter

An Easter ham may be garnished by cutting the outer rind of a lemon into tulip shapes. Stick a whole clove in the center of each of these tulips. Give each tulip a green pepper strip stem and place a whole clove in the center of each tulip. Surround ham on platter with green sprigs of parsley.

Enunciation Help

Poor articulation or slurring words so that whole sentences run together is the fault of a lazy mouth. To test your own enunciation, hold a matchstick in your teeth the next time you phone your best friend. Can she tell it's there? If so, you need practice.

C-C Bank reports record

Crocker - Citizens National Bank last year increased its business at home and abroad, enjoyed record earnings and laid the groundwork for substantial future profits, according to its annual report for 1967.

The report is now in the mail to more than 16,000 shareholders throughout the world. It notes that the total loans, deposits, resources and equity capital of the bank, including its subsidiaries, increased to record levels at the end of 1967; that its net earnings, after taxes, for the year—which amounted to $25,849,167, or $2.50 on a per-share basis—were the highest the institution's history, in spite of the fact that the bank's earnings for the second and third quarters of 1967 were slightly below its earnings for the same periods a year before.

According to the report, the bank opened 12 new offices in 1967, nine of them in communities where Crocker-Citizens had not been located previously, and completed new quarters for ten existing offices. During 1968 the bank plans to open seven new offices and 10 relocated offices.

The bank's trust department, one of the largest in the nation, with 16 regional offices in California, increased the number of its accounts during the year and reported gross fees of $8,422,535, an increase of 6.9 per cent over the 1966 total.

The bank registered increased earnings and growth from its far-flung international banking activities during 1967, despite its adherence to the federal government's guideline program to limit banks' overseas lending. A wholly-owned subsidiary, Crocker-Citizens International Bank, was opened for business on Nov. 1 in New York City.

Crocker - Citizens continued to prepare for the replacement, beginning in 1968, of existing data-processing machines with more advanced "third-generation" equipment involving large scale computers and mass storage devices. According to the bank, the new equipment has far greater capabilities than its present computers and will enable it to further reduce costs, offer additional banking services and eventually provide management a broad range of current information concerning the bank's operations.
